ISLAND LAKES COMBED FOR MISSING PLANE

Hunt For Slayers Starts When Body Of Levine Boy Found

Doctors Examine Remains of Child Discovered on Long Island Shore

Unable To Say How Abductors Killed Him

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—The long search for kidnapped 12-year-old Peter Levine—a hunt during which one clue after another came to nothing—was at an end today, but while the body, without head, hands or feet, was found last night washed ashore on Long Island, the disappearance of the boy three months ago remained a mystery.

Dr. Amos O. Squire, Westchester County medical examiner, said preliminary examination indicated the boy had been slain and the body tossed into the sound.

"This is a clear case of murder," said District Attorney Walter Ferris.

G-MEN ARE AT WORK

High-ranking agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation went to work immediately with J. Edgar Hoover, his chief, who was in New York, taking charge of the investigation.

Murray Levine, Peter's father, a New York lawyer who had put aside everything in his vain search for the boy, and had appeared in every manner to the abductors to "make contact," was so utterly crushed by the news he scarcely was able to talk.

The body was hardly more than a mass of decomposed flesh and a few bones when it washed on the shore of the estate of Louis Iselin on Davenport Neck, Long Island Sound, but detectives Edwin Gleason and Michael Lynch found enough of the lad's clothing remained to make identification possible.

Helmer Strong, 47, a yacht captain employed by Mrs. Iselin, was standing on the shore when, he said, a due east wind blew the body landward and lodged it against a rock. He immediately spread the news and officers were on the scene in a short while.

WIRE EXAMINED

The detectives found a strong copper wire about the torso, part of it binding down the remains of one arm.

Seek Aid For Unemployables

City Relief Committee Recommends Further Protests to Government

The City Council, at its meeting tonight, will be asked to make a further protest to the provincial government over the manner in which a large number of Victoria relief cases have been declared "unemployable."

A statement of increasing costs to the city, chiefly through the unemployability rulings, will also be submitted to the council by the relief committee.

"It is recommended that this committee protest the method of classifying men 'unemployable' as being unfair to the municipalities and a great number of the men themselves, and again urge upon the provincial government the necessity of relieving the city of this tremendous extra financial burden."

With the recommendation is a table of costs showing monthly comparisons since the beginning of the year up to the end of April.

Since the unemployable rulings were made more stringent, the costs to the city for March and April of this year, against the similar months in 1937, have increased by 46 and 51.5 per cent respectively despite a drop in the total costs of relief for those same months of 35.5 and 34.9 per cent.

PROVINCE BENEFITS

The report shows the province has benefited through reductions in contributions to the extent of 65 per cent in each of the two months.

Prior to March and April the city did enjoy a slight reduction in costs, but they were comparatively small to those of the savings made by the province on the declining number of units receiving assistance.

The actual figures show that of $18,195.63 paid out in relief for April, the city met $11,733.43 while the government's share was reduced to $6,462.20.

The report and tabulated figures are expected to create considerable debate at the meeting.

PLANES SCOUT OVER JAPAN

Tour of Two Chinese Machines Along Kyushu Island Coast Worries Tokio

TOKIO (AP)—Two airplanes believed to be Chinese Monday night cruised along the entire length of the western coast of Kyushu Island, and caused declaration of a state of alarm for western Japan which was not ended until 1:45 Tuesday (8:45 a.m. Monday P.S.T.).

All available reports agreed the planes dropped no bombs, and apparently they ended their reconnaissance of the Kyushu coast without molestation and turned homeward. It was the second bloodless "air raid" on Japan proper in 10 days.

Coming from the south, the planes appeared first over Kagoshima, at the southern end of Kyushu, which is the westernmost island of the Japanese homeland. They flew as far as Fukuoka and Moji, at the island's northwestern tip, and then disappeared.

Western air defence headquarters declared a state of alarm at 10:50 p.m. (5:50 a.m. P.S.T.), later extending it to include Yamaguchi prefecture, at the western end of Honshu, Japan's main island, and part of Korea, as well as Kyushu.

The planes were first reported over Kyushu about 9 p.m.

JAPANESE WORRIED

Japanese authorities, fearing such flights might be preliminary to mass air attacks on the crowded ports and industrial districts of Kyushu, admitted worry and mystification.

Kyushu was visited early the morning of May 20 by two Chinese warplanes which made a 2,500-mile round-trip from Hankow to drop leaflets instead of bombs on the area around Nagasaki, Kyushu port, and Sasebo, naval base from which Japanese warships usually set out for China waters.

Fukuoka is 800 miles southwest of Tokio.

ARRESTS TOTAL 1,300

TOKIO (AP)—A police summary today showed that 1,300 persons had been arrested since December, 1936, in Japan's anti-communist round-up. Two hundred and thirty-six were imprisoned, including 33 Imperial University students.

Sailboat Crew Of Two Rescued

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mavis Miller was none the worse for her escape from drowning in English Bay Sunday when the "Flatie" sailboat she was skippering capsized. Jack West, her crew, kept her from sinking when they both were thrown into the water. They were rescued by a nearby cruising craft.

Konrad Henlein, Nazi leader in Czechoslovakia, who is expected to join his lieutenants in talks with Premier Hodza for a settlement of the Sudeten German demands following yesterday's municipal polling in the republic.

HOPE SEEN IN CZECH TALKS

But Agreement With Sudetens Admittedly Difficult After Polling

PRAHA, (AP)—The progress of peace parleys this week may determine the chances of effective compromise between the German and Czechoslovakian elements of this post-war republic.

The second of three Sunday municipal elections yesterday showed, as did those a week ago, 80 to 95 per cent of the vote in German communities solidly behind Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German "Fuehrer." Czech communities among the 2,740 where elections were held followed a trend to the left. The elections yesterday were quiet.

It was taken for granted that the third and final election on June 12 would confirm the results of the first two, giving Henlein a powerful advantage in his claim to represent the 3,500,000 Sudeten German minority for which he demands sweeping privileges of self-government.

"I had to secure special permission to shave from the chief of police at Osaka," said Joseph Gilbertson of Vancouver, fourth officer of the British freighter Heathcote, who was held under arrest for three weeks by the Japanese authorities on a charge of taking photographs of Mitsui Island, Shimonoseki fortified zone.

Gilbertson arrived in Victoria this morning by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia, en route to his home in Vancouver. "I slept on a straw mat on the floor in Japanese style and was accorded the privilege of sending out for my food," he said. "I was detained under close po-

WORKS PLAN IS APPROVED

Ottawa Schemes Draw Comment; B.C. Also Wants Roads

Provincial government approval for Ottawa's new $100,000,000 public works and work-producing loan schemes was evident today, although comment by cabinet ministers was guarded until they are officially informed of the details.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said the proposal to advance $30,000,000 to municipalities at cheap rates for public works "seems one of the best schemes yet." There were many cities that had unemployment problems that also needed expenditures on their essential services, he said.

Mr. Pearson also expressed his approval of widening the housing scheme, particularly, he said, if it meant that the working man who wanted to own a modest home would be given the opportunity.

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, withheld any direct comment, because he said he had not received official advice of the plans. As reported in the press, he said, the program appeared to have considerable merit.

While the government perused Ottawa's schemes it was more concerned for the moment with the chances of getting its own road work for the summer.

Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, reached Ottawa Saturday to urge continuation of Dominion grants toward a joint road construction scheme. Premier Pattullo, after visiting Washington in connection with the Alaska Highway, was also in Ottawa today and was expected to join Mr. MacPherson in submitting the road proposals.

Two Killed In Vernon Shooting

Mrs. M. Peters Found Dead; Husband, Wounded, Dies Shortly Afterward

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Sergeant H. W. King of the British Columbia police stated today Mrs. Mike Peters had been found dead of gunshot wounds in a house on the Vernon outskirts late yesterday.

Near the house lay her husband, 33, fatally wounded. A gun lay near him.

Mrs. Peters, 21, was killed by two revolver shots. A few days ago she had filed suit for separation against her husband.

Sergt. King said investigation showed Peters had arrived in Vernon at 4:30 p.m. Sunday from Copper Mountain, where he was employed. Less than an hour later his wife was dead and he was mortally wounded, said the sergeant.

Mrs. Peters had been staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith here.

The fatal shots were heard by Mrs. W. H. Shaw, sister-in-law of Mrs. Peters, and a neighbor. Mrs. Peters died instantly. Dr. H. L. Alexander ordered the husband rushed to a hospital, but he died shortly after arrival there.

Peters had a single bullet wound in the head.

Sergt. King said an inquest would be held later today.

ROBERTS WINS 500-MILE RACE

Has Record Average of 117.200 M.P.H. at Indianapolis; Spectator Killed

SPEEDWAY, INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Floyd Roberts, Van Nuys, Calif., roared to record-breaking victory in the 500-mile automobile race today. It was his first major triumph in 22 years of racing.

Roberts, driving the entire distance without relief, and making only one 30-second stop, received tumultuous acclaim of the huge crowd as he piloted his brick-red colored car across the finish line. The winner finished about five miles ahead of Wilbur Shaw, 1937 Indianapolis winner of the 1937

Roberts covered the 500 miles in 4:15.58.40 to establish the remarkable average of 117.200 miles an hour, smashing the record of 113.580 hung up by Shaw last year.

Chet Miller, Detroit, finished third, about seven and a half miles back. Miller was close upon Roberts in the last 25 miles but was forced to stop for gas on his

R. W. MAYHEW SWORN AS M.P.

Becomes Victoria's Member in Ceremony Before Chief Justice in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Robert W. Mayhew, Liberal member of the federal Parliament for Victoria, today took his oath of office before Chief Justice Archer Martin of the British Columbia Court of Appeal and later signed a page of the roll of the House of Commons.

Mr. Mayhew was elected to the seat in a by-election last November 29 necessitated by the death of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative member. He had been unable to take over his duties previously owing to ill-health.

Chief Justice Martin was appointed by the Governor-General under the Great Seal to officiate at today's ceremony, at which Mrs. Mayhew and their son, Alan, and several friends were present.

The roll signed by the Victoria member was sent here from Ottawa as he was unable to attend the present session of the House.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Harold F. McCormick, 66, of the harvester machinery family, announced tonight he and Adah Wilson, his 34-year-old nurse, would be married here next Tuesday.

SIX PLANES SEARCHING

Meanwhile six planes worked out of this little mining settlement of 1,200 persons in their search for Waagen and his three passengers—Mrs. George Nicholson, wife of the deputy mining recorder and postmaster here; Charles R. Rumsey, Toronto mining engineer, and H. Boyd, an unemployed miner who was coming here from Steveston, B.C., in search of work.

Pilot Molly Small of Canadian Airways, flying from Vancouver to Zeballos today with passengers, was held up by fog at Port Alberni, and could not continue his flight here to take part in the aerial hunt.

As the search continued this afternoon planes of two nations flew low over the waters bordering Vancouver Island on the west as pilots and observers watched sharply for some trace of the missing seaplane.

From three points in Canada and the United States planes were out hunting under low-hanging clouds, scouring the water for the yellow machine missing 80 hours.

Ships in the vicinity of the island also kept lookouts posted on the chance Pilot Waagen, formerly of Edmonton, might have been forced down at sea.

AREAS BLOCKED FOR SEARCH

This morning Vancouver Island was mapped out in a checker-board pattern, with each pilot assigned to a certain block. Flying with Ginger Coote, head of the company which owned the missing machine, was Major Nicholson, helping in the search to find his wife.

The air search concentrated for a time over a spot estimated at 10 miles northeast of Zeballos, where a miner at the Privater Mine said he had seen smoke rising Sunday morning.

Six planes were in the air over the island. Three Ginger Coote Airways planes formed the largest group. There was one from Canadian Airways, one from the Royal Canadian Air Force and one from the United States naval station at Port Angeles, Wash.

The U.S. machine, piloted by Lieut. Com. N. M. Nelson, was assigned to a strip of sea 40 miles wide stretching north to Cape Scott along the west coast of Vancouver Island. Its first flight was expected to last three hours.

Before You Decide—Compare These Vital Facts About Westinghouse

with those of any other refrigerator. No other make can give you all these essential features:

1. The only refrigerator provided with the Spencer-disc thermostat, providing "dual-automatic" protection for both mechanism and food.
2. The only dual-automatic electric refrigerator combining hermetically-sealed mechanism with forced-draught cooling.
3. Only three moving parts—no belts, no pulleys, no gears—never requires oiling or adjustment.
4. Westinghouse employs the finest precision limit for moving parts in the entire refrigerator industry—1-10,000th of an inch.
5. All-steel cabinets welded throughout for ruggedness and lifelong dependability. NO WOOD IS USED ANYWHERE.
6. The first refrigerator equipped for complete and adequate cold storage of fresh meats.
7. Westinghouse built the world's largest refrigerator order—16,600 refrigerators last year for the United States Government. This order was secured on the basis of greatest economy for a ten-year period of operation.

Kathleen Allen Nagle, Mrs. Annie Katherine Smith and Mrs. Isabel Mary MacLean.

The executors have been instructed that the four mothers referred to have made a settlement with Mrs. Lillian Kenny and Mrs. Pauline Mae Clarke whereby the pending appeals by these two women are abandoned.

The executors have been instructed by Mrs. Lillian Kenny and Mrs. Pauline Mae Clarke whereby they abandon and forego all claims to participate in the residuary estate of the deceased.

REPORTS CORRECTED

The announcement corrected week-end statements that $75,000 initial payments had been made to the four winners, each of whom registered nine births in the specified period which ended October 31, 1936.

Mrs. Kenny and Mrs. Clarke, whose claims to legal shares in the $300,000 estate were disallowed in the Ontario Supreme Court by Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton, each received $12,500 today. It was understood the winning mothers agreed to make the payments on condition Mrs. Kenny and Mrs. Clarke dropped their court appeals.

When liquidation of the estate is completed a further $75,000 will be distributed among the four winners.

CHANGE OF FORTUNE

Winners are Mrs. Kathleen Nagle, 35 years old, and the mother of 12 children, has been married 18 years. Mrs. Annie Smith is the wife of a city fireman. Mrs. Isabel MacLean, wife of a civil servant, is the mother of 11 children, and Mrs. Alice Timleck, 38, in 20 years of married life has borne 18 children.

None of the winners previously was well-to-do. The Nagles have been on relief for several years. Arthur Timleck, employed by Toronto parks department, operates an automobile and keeps a maid-in-his-house. The Smiths and the MacLeans once said they would have "managed" without the stock derby winnings.

In the background is the stocky figure of fiery, tempestuous Mrs. Lillian Kenny, 35-year-old French-Canadian matron, of whose reported 14 children 10 were born in the stipulated 10-year period. But Mr. Justice Middleton's decision that still-born children could not be counted ruled Mrs. Kenny out of the prizes. Four of her children were born dead.

Freddy, red-headed Mrs. Mae Clarke is 25 years old and has nine babies born in Toronto in the specified period. Mr. Justice Middleton, however, ruled she was ineligible. Illegitimate children could not count in the derby reckoning and Mrs. Clarke had five.

Step by step, Mrs. Kenny and Mrs. Clarke had fought the court's rulings. Appeals to courts higher than the Supreme Court of Ontario were pending. Then came today's announcement their claims had been settled.

CALLED A JOKE

It has been said the will was written as a joke at a party and never was meant to stand.

Millar, a barrister, was known as a practical joker. In a footnote to his will, he said: "This will is necessarily uncommon and capricious because I have no near relatives and what I do leave is proof of my folly in gathering and retaining more than I required in my lifetime."

When Millar died unexpectedly in his downtown office on Sunday, October 31, 1926, the stock derby field was "off." Blasts of criticism from church leaders and public figures intensified interest in the bizarre "race."

CANTON AGAIN RAIDED

CANTON, China (CP-Havas)—A Japanese aerial armada again blasted this south China city Monday, raising the toll of dead and wounded at least 2,700.

About 9,000 Chinese men, women and children, burdened with their belongings, poured out of the city toward the British "crown colony" of Hongkong, 70 miles to the south, where refugees now total 750,000 and are expected to exceed 1,000,000.

"The British gunboats Cicala and Seamen left Hongkong for Canton to join the gunboats Moth and Tarantula.

Authorities here were hard pressed today to cope with the panic among the population and the damage and fires left by the bombs. The raids were described as the most savage and systematic attacks directed against a Chinese city since the war began.

On Sunday 40 Japanese bombers attacked Canton, killing 250 civilians and wounding an estimated 500 others. It was the second series of attacks in 48 hours.

MISSIONS DAMAGED

SHANGHAI (AP)—A brief dispatch from Hankow stated Japanese planes had damaged Canadian mission property late Saturday in bombing Kaiteng, Chinese-held city on the central China front. No details were available ere.

WORD AWAITED

NEW RAILWAY

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Japanese newspaper correspondents in Shanghai reported Monday an agreement has been reached between French interests and the Chinese government for construction of a railway linking Indo-China with Nanking, capital of Kwangsi province in south China.

The reports, published in the Asahi and the Nihon Nichi, created a considerable stir here, since the new line, asserted to be completed within six months, would greatly facilitate shipment of arms and ammunition into China via the Indo-Chinese ports of Hamo and Hapichong.

HUNT FOR SLAYERS STARTS WHEN BODY OF LEVINE BOY FOUND

In a pocket of the trousers were found a jack-knife and a toy airplane.

The medical examiners were unable to tell without further examination whether Peter's head was cut off by the abductors or a boat striking the body had caused the mutilation.

"The most substantial clue to the whole crime, inconclusive as it was, was the coil of copper wire. Federal agents immediately set about trying to trace it—where it was bought, by whom and when.

The boy disappeared last February 24, on his way home from school. The first ransom note—which, like all others, appeared to have been written on a cheap toy typewriter—demanded $60,000 and Levine, a lawyer of no great wealth, set about to try to raise the money.

On February 28, the father received a note, scrawled in a schoolboyish hand, on a scrap of newspaper, signed "Peter," and begging "dad" to pay what had been asked.

MONEY ASKED

Four days later, while the Levines waited in their two-story home with blinds drawn and intermittently appealing to police and public to keep "hands off," Levine disclosed that $30,000 demanded in another ransom communication was ready.

On April 20, Levine had become so certain his son was dead he offered a new reward—$25,000 for the boy's recovery but, more significantly, $5,000 for information disclosing his body.

It appeared today it might be a matter of two or three days before the medical men could possibly answer fully and authoritatively the riddle of the exact manner of Peter's death. Decomposition had been well advanced.

One thing was widely accepted: The boy's kidnappers had become angry and had killed him brutally, perhaps even continuing their negotiations for money long after the body lay in the sound.

THREE GERMAN FLIERS KILLED

VIENNA (CP-Havas)—Three German aviators met death in a crash during the all-German air race which began two days ago in Berlin and ended here Sunday. A squadron from the Dresden air school took the first prize, offered by Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Air Minister. Of 390 planes which started out, 305 completed the circuit.

VANCOUVER (CP)—New shares of Coast Breweries Limited will be traded on Vancouver Stock Exchange in place of old on Monday, June 6, it was announced after a special meeting of shareholders.

Distribution will be at the rate of 10 new shares for one old.

ISLAND LAKES COMBED FOR MISSING PLANE

OFF NOOTKA POINT

One of the first points of search was near Nootka Point, south of Zeballos. The light-keeper there, A. Chamberlain, reported he had heard a plane sometime after 10 a.m., Friday. Chamberlain said the plane apparently was having engine trouble.

British Columbia Police Constable John Cameron of Zeballos went to the lighthouse by speed-boat to investigate Chamberlain's report.

Just inland from Nootka Point is a small lake, and Ginger Coote said it was "possible" Waagen might have set his plane down there.

Ernie Kubicek arrived in Vancouver from Fort St. John, B.C., with a 10-passenger United Air transport plane to join the search for Waagen.

Coote was in the air with one of his planes this morning, and Ralph Oakes with another.

Flying Officer H. L. Riddell of the R.C.A.F. station at Jericho Beach here was expected to be joined later today by another air force machine.

N. E. (Molly) Small, chief pilot for Canadian Airways, and Charles Turner of Vancouver, were also taking part in the aerial hunt.

Flying with Kubicek was Capt. Robert Lawson, British Columbia pilot familiar with the Vancouver Island coastline.

PREFERRED BOAT TRAVEL

Friends of Mrs. Nicholson who saw the woman just before she boarded Waagen's plane for the return flight to Zeballos quoted her as saying:

"I've had my flight now and I'm satisfied. I'll fly back to Zeballos and when I come to Vancouver in future, I think I'll travel by boat."

Mrs. Nicholson, they said, told them she wasn't afraid of flying, but that "I don't like it when the wind makes the plan dip up and down."

They said they joked with Mrs. Nicholson, telling her she would probably have a rough trip on the return flight.

"I don't care," they said she replied, "I'll be home with George soon."

Mrs. Nicholson was one of the first women in Zeballos, arriving at the new mining camp two years ago. At that time her home was the only building on what is now "Main Street."

Often her house was more like a hospital than a home. Men injured in the surrounding mines were usually brought there for treatment. While in Vancouver, she spent much time soliciting subscriptions toward building a $15,000 hospital at Zeballos.

Provincial police radioed to headquarters in Victoria said Ginger Coote had refueled his plane at 9 this morning at Alert Bay after searching Wass Lake, and made contact with prospectors there. No plane had been heard or seen in that vicinity last Friday. Pilot Coote intended to continue his search around Vernon Lake, Bonanza Lake and other lakes in the vicinity where it was reported there were low-lying fog banks.

Corporal Roy Allan in the Provincial Police patrol boat from Powell River searched the shores of Texada Island, where flares were reported, but said all he had found was an Indian fire on the north end of the island, which might have been mistaken for flares.

The Provincial Police boat No. 7, from Alberni, searched the vicinity of Escalante to King's Pass, checking on a report from Estevan that the plane was heard by the lightkeeper at Nootka Lighthouse.

EDMONTON (CP)—Len Waagen, 25-year-old pilot of the Ginger Coote Airways of Vancouver, unreported since Friday morning, when he took off with three passengers for Zeballos, began his commercial flying career with United Air Transport as a mechanic in 1932.

He became a co-pilot of U.A.T. in 1933 after winning his commercial pilot's license, and in 1936 became a full-fledged pilot. He has 1,500 hours as a first pilot and 600 hours as a co-pilot, all in northern flying.

Eight months ago Waagen passed his "blind" flying test and three months ago joined G.A.C., a line connected with U.A.T. He married Hilda K. Moore of Edmonton last May 4. His flight from Vancouver was the first since he returned there.

RESOURCEFUL FLIER

"Waagen is a resourceful flier, a real bush pilot capable of looking after his passengers and himself," said Grant McConnachie, U.A.T. president. Waagen was lost once before. In August, 1937, his craft crashed three hours after he had taken off from St. John, in northern British Columbia, en route to Grande Prairie, and was unreported for 33 hours.

Waagen was unharmed. McConnachie said Ernie Kubicek, U.A.T. pilot who left here

WHEEL KILLS FAN

Everett Spencer, Terre Haute, Ind., a spectator, was killed today when a wheel from a crashing race car flew off the track.

The wheel flew off the car driven by Emil Andres, Chicago, whose mount crashed into the lower retaining wall on the southeast turn as he was speeding on his 112th mile. Andres, rushed to a hospital, suffered a broken nose and a possible brain concussion.

Spencer was reported to be standing on top of a truck, watching the race, when Andres' car crashed into the wall, turning over three times. Spencer was 33 years old. He was dead when he reached the hospital.

Traveling at scorching speed, Jimmy Snyder, Chicago, led the race at the end of the first 100 miles in record-breaking time of 49:59.62 to average 120.015 miles an hour, smashing all records for the distance. Snyder, snatching the lead from Rex May, Glendale, Calif., soon after the start, had a lead of six and a half seconds over the Californian, with Ronny Householders, Van Nuys, Calif., third and Roberts fourth.

Mays, however, was forced out of the race at 112 miles because of motor trouble. He had been signalling for several laps the car was overheating. Two others were also forced out, Shorty Canton, Detroit, and Al Putnam, Los Angeles, reducing the field to 30.

At 200 miles, Roberts had snatched the lead from Snyder, when Snyder stopped at the pits to change tires and take on gas. Roberts had covered the distance in 1:40:57.20 to average 118.867, which smashed all track records for the distance. Kelly Pettilo, Los Angeles, was second and Shaw third. Snyder had regained the lead at 300 miles.

At 400 miles Roberts was back in the lead. His average of 117.723 miles an hour broke all records. Thirteen cars were still on the track at the finish.

FACES CHARGE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Robert Chambers, 31-year-old resident of Roberts Creek, 20 miles north of Vancouver, was held by city police today on a charge of retaining stolen property. He was arrested yesterday after British Columbia and city police had traveled to Roberts Creek in a provincial game department motor launch.

this morning for Prince George, would continue to Vancouver to assist in the search and if Waagen is still unreported Monday, McConnachie said he would fly to Vancouver himself to join the hunt.

DIFFICULT TASK

The basic difficulty to compromise, in the eyes of neutral observers here, is how to work out a plan whereby a whole section of the population, which is Nazi German, can be granted the concessions of self-government by a state which is struggling to defend its independence against Germany.

Some optimism was apparent, however, because the Sudeten German and Premier Hodza were willing at least to talk things over.

BRITISH COMMENT

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The British press today expressed satisfaction that the second phase of the Czechoslovak elections had passed without serious disorders.

All newspapers emphasized the threat of war growing out of the Prague-Berlin dispute had been avoided by Czechoslovakia's determination to resist violence. In a letter to The Times, the Labor peer, Lord Allen of Hurtwood, placed particular stress on this point. In editorial comment The Times (Independent) felicitated the Czech people for their "admirable coolness" during the crisis.

GERMAN VIEWS

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—German papers today called "the second round of Czechoslovakia's municipal elections" a "new triumph for Henlein."

German Socialists and Communists, said the Voelkischer Beobachter, were "completely smashed."

GOEBBELS SPEAKS

DESSAU, Germany (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels Sunday told a huge party demonstration Germany "holds peace as necessary as it does bread," but warned against further violations of the German frontier by Czechoslovakians.

It was the first public statement on the troubled German-Czechoslovak situation by a senior Nazi official.

"What should we say to continuing border violations by Czech warplanes?" asked Goebbels. "In the end isn't one of these incidents bound to exhaust our patience?"

"We have peace in our country, but we can't thank any other countries for it," Goebbels said. "A sharp German sword is our best protection."

POLICE MOVE SCHUSCHNIGG

VIENNA (AP)—The whereabouts of former Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg were a mystery today, after it was learned reliably he had been taken quietly "somewhere" by German secret police Saturday night.

Three possible explanations were advanced unofficially to explain his transfer from the Belvedere Castle, where he had been under guard since Anschluss with Germany, March 13.

One was that Von Schuschnigg would have to face trial before the Leipzig supreme court.

Others who thought his health too impaired for imprisonment in the Leipzig penitentiary be-

Healed he might be permitted to live under guard in a German sanatorium.

The third reasoning was that letters threatening to "lynch him" and assurances by friends they would try to free him had necessitated his removal.

A close friend of the former Chancellor said last week he had suffered a nervous breakdown. Von Schuschnigg's blonde fiancée, 34-year-old Countess Vera von Babenhause, and his father, retired Austrian officer, followed northward a short time after his departure.

RAIDERS FAIL AT BARCELONA

BARCELONA (CP-Havas)—New high-speed anti-aircraft guns today thwarted insurgent attempts to bomb the provincial capital. The anti-aircraft batteries forced the raiders to fly away before they could drop any bombs on the city.

HENDAYE (AP)—General Franco's insurgent legions were on the march today down the broad Teruel-Valencia highway, flanking the Spanish government's mountain stronghold at Mora de Rebollos.

The rapid insurgent advance threatened to drive the government troops from their carefully prepared defences around Mora de Rebollos before a fight.

VALENCIA, Spain (CP-Havas)—The 1,999-ton French freighter El Djem was hit and set afire today when insurgent planes bombed the port of El Grao, this city and the suburbs of Cabanel.

Explosives fell at many points, causing extensive property damage. No list of casualties was immediately available.

New Park Asked For Salt Spring

GANGES HARBOR — At the Ganges Women's Institute meeting Friday afternoon a proposal to petition the government to set aside Mount Baynes as a public park for the residents of Salt Spring Island was heartily endorsed.

Upper-leather exports from the United States have an approximate annual value of more than $15,000,000.

Church Workers Aiding Chinese

Estimated 33,000 Roman Catholics ministering to War Refugees

HANKOW, China (CP-Havas) — A "peace army" of 33,000 Roman Catholics is ministering to the needs of thousands of Chinese refugees and war-wounded, a survey shows. The army has 6,000 foreign priests and nuns, 5,000 Chinese priests and nuns, 15,000 teachers and 7,000 students doing voluntary work in its ranks. Each Catholic mission on Chinese territory aids, feeds and gives medical aid to between 5,000 and 10,000 refugees and 5,000 wounded soldiers.

During the Christmas of 1935, the British General Post Office handled 286,000,000 letters and 10,000,000 parcels.

Fewer Work Days At Ocean Falls

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of Pacific Mills Ltd., which operates a newsprint plant at Ocean Falls, north of here on the coast, at the week-end announced production will be on a 14-day-a-month schedule.

The curtailed operations will be continued indefinitely, depending on market conditions. Last Thursday the Powell River Company Ltd., operators of another newsprint plant at Powell River, 90 miles north of here on the coast, announced production would be put on a 16-day-a-month schedule.

The two companies had been operating on a six-day week schedule, with occasional layoff periods to clear surplus production.

Franco Day Is Is Held In July

Insurgents in Spain Honored in Widespread Celebrations

ROME (AP)—Italy gave new testimony Sunday of her enthusiasm for the cause of insurgent Spain in day-long celebrations of "Italo-Spanish solidarity."

The principal event was a theatre mass meeting attended by Foreign Minister Count Ciano and the insurgent Spanish ambassadors to Rome and the Holy See.

Also present was a mission headed by Insurgent General Millan Astray, sent by General Franco to represent him. He recalled that 12 years ago Il Duce told him "when the critical historic hour should arrive for Spain it might be certain Italy would rush to its aid."

Social Crediters Of Quebec Meet

Crowd of 700 Hears Speakers at St. Hyacinthe

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—Support of Social Credit principles was expressed Sunday night by J. E. Gregoire, Nationalist member of the Quebec Legislative Assembly for Montmagny, in a speech before a public meeting sponsored by the first congress of the Social Credit League of Quebec. He was a surprise speaker.

"I came here to listen and not to speak, but I can tell you without hesitation that I am a Social Creditist," Gregoire declared. The member did not elaborate on his statement except to add facetiously: "I have not studied the matter exhaustively, but I think credit should be more social.

"We must have credit," Gregoire asserted, "but it must be for the benefit of the people and not the trusts."

Gregoire is one of a year-old party which has five men in the Legislative Assembly. Elected originally as a Union Nationale member, he left Premier Maurice Duplessis' party with the four others last year, claiming it would not fulfill promises to combat the big trusts. He was mayor of Quebec City until his defeat in the municipal election several weeks ago.

HEARD BY 700

He spoke to an open air meeting of about 700 persons after an afternoon meeting of 400 delegates had launched the congress and elected Louis Dugal, Quebec City lawyer, as Quebec president. Delegates were present from Ottawa as well as this province, and Lloyd Jaeger, president of the Social Credit Association of Ontario, represented that body.

In the league meeting, the delegates decided to send a cable to Major C. H. Douglas, British founder of Social Credit, expressing the "sincere homage" of the assembly. A telegram was ordered sent also to Premier William Aberhart of Alberta, carrying good wishes of the congress and adding a hope for Social Credit's success in the June 8 provincial election in Saskatchewan.

NO PADLOCKING

Mayor T. B. Bouchard, also Liberal floor leader in the Legislature, who welcomed the delegates to Quebec, declared the Social Crediters "need not fear any padlock law in this city," a reference to the Quebec government's anti-communism measure.

Rene A. Pelletier, Social Credit M.P. for Peace River, Alta., declared French Canadians in the west deserting the old party flags to embrace Social Credit.

Another speaker well known in Quebec politics was Paul Bouchard, Quebec, editor of the Nationalist paper La Nation and unsuccessful Nationalist candidate in the federal by-election in Lotbiniere last winter. Mr. Bouchard deplored statements there was "no money" in Canada when the trusts were sending money abroad to buy armaments.

Driver Dies In Alberta Crash

VULCAN, Alta. (CP)—Trapped in his truck when it overturned, Joseph Johnston, 52, was instantly killed on a highway five miles west of Vulcan late Sunday.

A companion, William Bunday, suffered facial injuries and was brought to the hospital here. Another friend, Frank Delbried, escaped injury.

The men were delivering a load of grasshopper poison to a district farm when the truck, following a light rain, skidded on the slippery highway.

Born at Carman, Man., Johnston had been a resident of Vulcan since 1910.

Moderator Urges Canadian Unity

Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce of United Church Speaks in Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—A plea for a united Canada was given here Sunday by Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce of Toronto, Moderator of the General Council of the United Church of Canada.

"We must think nationally, not provincially, if we want Canada to be a great nation," he said.

Dr. Bryce, here for the Alberta conference of the United Church, spoke at Knox Church.

Work of the church in helping farmers in dried-out areas of southern Saskatchewan was recalled. "All provinces joined with the churches in sending 927 carloads of fruits and vegetables to the areas stricken with drought," he said. "An appeal was made for $40,000 for the 240 ministers working in those areas. More than $37,000 was received."

Canadian religious life had four trends, he said. "A trend toward the co-operation of all Protestant churches in Canada; a trend toward deepening in the spiritual life of the church; a trend toward a deeper appreciation of the work and life of the church, and a trend toward feeling that the time has come for the church to advance."

Oil Tank Truck Burns On Road

Spectacular Scene Near Calgary; Driver Suffers Burns

CALGARY (CP)—A giant oil tank truck was a mass of twisted wreckage today, its driver, Thomas Gallivan, 22, of Drumheiler, in a hospital, and his helper, L. C. Bertram, 20, was telling of his almost miraculous escape from death when the "tanker" caught fire Saturday night.

En route from the Turker Valley oil field to Drumheiler, the truck was a mile south of Calgary when it was enveloped in flames. In four separate tanks it carried 1,245 gallons of gasoline.

Three of the four tanks, the largest holding 419 gallons of gasoline, exploded. The fourth was pierced by a farmer-rifleman who blasted four holes through it to allow the blazing gas to flow into the ditch.

As Gallivan and his mate, after an unsuccessful effort to extin-

As he dashed from the burning tanker, Gallivan was severely burned about the left hand and arm, but Bertram escaped injury.

Traffic was held up for three hours, communication lines were disrupted when poles were burned and lines melted under the terrific heat. Calgary firemen, assisted by a patrol of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, fought the flames and kept motorists from the danger zone along the Macleod Highway.

China's Second Wind

A FEW DAYS AGO THE JAPANESE were reported to have the main Chinese army bottled up. Now the news indicates the Chinese army not only did not receive the advertised death-blow, but over the week-end has been hitting out and doing things to Nippon's soldiers not contemplated in Japanese army textbooks.

China would appear, as the Far Eastern correspondent of the Chicago Daily news cables, to be catching her second wind. After weeks of indecisive fighting, in which it seemed as if the new Japanese offensive would undo the work of China's splendid campaign, the Chinese army is striking another vigorous blow against the Japanese invader.

The nation's defence program has been completely reorganized, on the only basis on which the Chinese can hope to offer effective resistance. China's strength does not rest in her army, but in her people. All over the country small groups of several thousand volunteers are being trained to become leaders in a vast mobilization program, while public opinion is responding to propaganda aimed at arousing it to resistance against the Japanese invasion. It is the practical application of what China's Red Army has always preached—"Mobilize the people."

Other correspondents write in a similar vein. The Japanese public is said to be showing a noticeable lack of enthusiasm and war weariness is general. Japan's tactics, which are closing the door of trade with China to the Occidental powers in increasing measure, are not calculated to increase her chances with the outside world.

This does not mean that the end of the war is near. It does not mean that China's plan of wearing out her adversary is beginning to take effect. The Japanese have won too much territory to be driven out entirely. But their dream of becoming the masters of all China is far from reality.

Not Ready Yet For War

ASSERTIONS THAT NEITHER GERMANY nor Italy is ready for large-scale war is confirmed by Mr. M. W. Fodor, who witnessed the German "conquest" of Austria as Chicago Daily News correspondent in Vienna.

Now, back on this continent, Mr. Fodor insists that Hitler's war machine bogged down badly in the 400-mile drive to Vienna because of synthetic rubber tires and poor lubricants. This, though the columns had had two months of preparation on the German-Austrian border before the actual invasion early in March.

"The Viennese," he writes, "were properly impressed with Nazi might as they watched the columns of tanks and lorries rumble through their streets. But they did not know that every one of the heavy tanks and many lorries failed to get as far as Vienna. Their course was marked with a trail of flat tires and burned-out bearings."

Hitler, this correspondent adds, originally planned to occupy Austria by means of a Nazi putsch, which was to have been set off by the assassination of Herr Muff, the German military attaché in Vienna. Himmler, the powerful head of the Gestapo, however, persuaded Hitler that Von Papen "should be sacrificed" instead. What spoiled this plan was that Von Papen was tipped off. He left at once for Berchtesgaden and sold the Chancellor the idea of inviting Dr. Schuschnigg for his "third degree" party there.

Another Ice Age Coming

THERE IS NO NEED FOR ANY OF OUR readers to be alarmed if they try to peer into the future and get used to the idea that a new ice age is on its way. Our authority for the announcement of this coming event is one, Professor F. X. Schaffer, a noted Viennese geologist. This expert tells us quite frankly, however, that something queer is going on under the surface of our earth, as he sees it; the solid ground is slowly humping itself up—very slowly, but steadily, enough to lower the annual temperature by a fraction of a degree. If this goes on (and he seems to suspect that it will) the temperature will drop just enough to bring a new sheet of glaciers down over the northern hemisphere.

This will not happen tomorrow, even if Professor Schaffer's diagnosis is correct; but from the standpoint of geological time the change is taking place at what amounts to break-neck speed. It is the professor's belief that the new ice age will be upon us within the next 2,000 years. But—and this is comforting—it takes more than one expert to make a cataclysm, and any timorous mortal could undoubtedly find plenty of geologists to disagree heartily with everything that the Vienna expert has said. But there is a salutary little note of warning in this gloomy picture which is worth bearing in mind even if the picture itself turns out to be wholly false.

We ordinarily take it for granted that all our human activities take place in a permanently stable, orderly world. The solid earth, the open sky, the recurring change of seasons—these, as we see them, are the immutable framework within which we work out our destinies as best we can. So, taking the earth for granted, we go ahead and do our best—or our worst. We devote our energies to all kinds of struggles that array man against man; to wars between nations, to combats between rich and poor. On these things, we tell ourselves, depends the "future of the human race."

But suppose the future of the human race depends on nothing of the kind. Suppose, instead, that it depends on some incalculable shift in the forces of nature itself; suppose that all of us have only a few more centuries to go before the flame goes out and the earth becomes an unlit lamp swinging silently through everlasting night. What then?

Would we, in such case, have the intelligence to drop our petty squabbles and see our human race for what it really is—a unit, which holds insecure footing on an unpredictable planet, and which must work together if the years which remain to it are to be made endurable? It might take the shadow of approaching cosmic calamity to make us do that. Looking at the world today, one must admit that it would almost be worth the cost.

Why Depressions Linger

JOHN T. FLYNN, WHO WRITES STIMULATING articles on economic questions in widely-read magazines, suggests there is a way out of depressions and recessions with all their unemployment and other ills, but it is a road we lack the nerve to take.

As he sees it, a depression implies a failure in purchasing power, which in turn implies a failure of the long-term credit mechanism. This, he adds, is generally due to rising prices in capital goods and consumer goods industries, rising debt burdens and exhaustion of credit or investment opportunities.

If this be true, says Mr. Flynn, the road to recovery is clear. Let governments withdraw completely from all plans to bolster up debts. In other words, from all plans designed to maintain the prices of mortgages, bonds and stocks. Let them also withdraw from all schemes to bolster commodity prices, on the farm, in industry or wherever.

In its essence, this is simply the "hands-off" program advocated by some students. But it is unique in this: It is a real, thorough, uncompromising hands-off program and it makes no exceptions. It would let all prices find their own level. It would mean no more government loans or subsidies to producers or railroads. It would permit bankruptcies to go through whenever and wherever the iron rule of economics ordered, instead of keeping them dangling and accumulating. It would permit a deflationary movement to pursue its course to the bitter end, instead of being delayed in hopes of lightening the total effect of the blow.

In the long run, it would undoubtedly work. Ultimately, when the wreckage was cleared, we would be able to go forward unhampered. But would we ever have the courage to try it? We think not. We all believe in the hands-off theory for governments—except when it comes to bolstering up our own sectional or economic interests.

Duce's "Seal of Nobility"

MUSSOLINI INCLUDES THIS PARAGRAPH in his latest restatement of Fascist philosophy:

"Only war brings all human energies to the maximum tension and places the seal of nobility on the peoples who have the virtue to face it. The anti-padist spirit of Fascism carries over to the life of the individual."

The only possible companion piece to that statement is Il Duce's recent warning to inhabitants of Italian cities to pick out a rural place of hiding in case of war, because they would not be safe in their ancient cities.

Hiding in a haystack during an air raid may be highly sensible, but only a Fascist could explain how it confers a "seal of nobility."

Exiled to lonely Tibet are the famed St. Bernard dogs, after many generations in the Alps and just as the brandy in the little casks was getting good.

For 60 consecutive springs, a Chilean village has been rocked by quakes. Thus it achieves the effect of housecleaning without the domestic raucous.

CONSERVATIVE PREMIER GOES SOCIALIST

From Ottawa Journal
In Saskatchewan, Mr. J. G. Diefenbaker has come out for a plan of crop insurance "similar to the one now being attempted in some of the central United States."

Mr. Diefenbaker is not a "radical." He is a Conservative; the leader of the Saskatchewan Conservative Party. Yet he thinks nothing of espousing a policy which, in its essence, is absolutely socialist.

Thus the length we have come in a generation. The pioneers who opened the west, hardy adventurers seeking new frontiers, never heard of crop insurance. They no more dreamt of it than did the pioneers who, a few generations before, felled the forests and tilled the fields of Ontario.

It is different today. We talk of unemployment insurance, of health insurance; of state aid or guarantee of practically everything under the sun.

Where the thing is going to end, Heaven alone knows. For if we guarantee one man's livelihood, protect him against loss, then what of some other man's livelihood? A crop is no more sacred than a job; a field of wheat no more sacred than a factory; a crop in the west no more entitled to insurance than a crop in the east.

The truth is that collectivism, once begun, feeds upon itself; drives to the logical conclusion of collectivism to the end. Which is something worth thinking about.

Said Lord Roseberry 40 years ago: "We are all Socialists now." We wonder what Roseberry would say today.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SERIOUS BUSINESS

ONE OF THOSE delightfully mad fellows who spend their time fishing in the Cowichan River was telling me today that conditions in the world are growing pretty serious. He was not referring to the feeding habits of the trout, which are often serious enough, but to the war in Spain. The newspapers have overlooked the news entirely—concentrating their columns on the small incidents in the Chinese war and on the activities of little persons like Hitler—so that I am able to present this information exclusively here: The Spanish war has threatened the whole sport of trout fishing by drying up the world's supply of cat gut.

So far as I can discover, only Spanish cats are worthy of the true fisherman. Only Spanish cat gut makes those superb English gut leaders that fairly melt into the water, deceiving the most wily trout. As a result of the Spanish war, the supply of cat gut has almost disappeared. Stocks in America, and even here in Victoria, have run low. I suppose it is because all the cats have been killed and perhaps eaten. Anyway, the fishermen say that if the war isn't finished soon, fishing will be at an end; for no true Cowichan fisherman will use anything less than Spanish gut. The fishermen have begun to realize that the Spanish war is pretty serious and that the world is getting into a grave state.

NEW SPECIES

A NEW AND curious species has just been discovered in the United States, and is revealed by the picture paper Life in a series of scientific photographs. The habitat of the species is in Hollywood and New York, its habits nocturnal, amatory and romantic. The species is known to zoologists as "the Glamour Boy."

The Glamour Girl, of course, was discovered several years ago in Hollywood. Up to then girls had been just pretty, but Hollywood needed something stronger. It tried Romance for a while, but that became too pallid and finally some inspired genius hit on the word Glamour. Since then Glamour, like most of the nice words of the language, has been seduced, perverted and debauched until it has not only lost its original meaning but has acquired new ones, all of them disagreeable. There used to be something exciting about Glamour, something that made you think of your youth and old, forgotten far-off things. Now Glamour just means a girl in a bathing suit or underclothes.

Well, once the Glamour Girl was discovered, every hard-working woman in Hollywood had to join this species. Even Martha Raye, who had a unique landmark in her mouth, has decided to be a Glamour Girl and every 17-year-old village drug-store flapper in America has gone in for Glamour, until Glamour has become simply a process of painting the face and fingernails. To the cosmetic industry Glamour has been a life-saver.

All this was bad enough, but now that the Glamour Boy has been discovered you will find something much worse. Mr. Errol Flynn is hailed as the first Glamour Boy, and to be fair about it, he seems to have a fair amount of Glamour. But wait until all the young men of America try to acquire it; wait until they all try to be Errol Flynn, just as the girls have been successively Garbos, Dietrichs and Loys; wait until your own son decides that he must be glamorous when a kind nature intended him to be a shoe salesman or a plumber. Then you will begin to realize what Mr. Flynn and the movies have done to you.

It is bad enough, so parents tell me, to have a young Garbo in the your family without a Flynn. It is impossible to make a Garbo wash the dishes, they tell me, and how are you going to turn a Flynn into a shoe salesman or a plumber. They talk about John L. Lewis, or the Communist, Mr. Earl Browder, or Mr. Roosevelt himself as disturbing the nation and upsetting the structure of society. If you could analyze it, you would probably find that fellows like Garbo and Flynn upset more people of both sexes than all the statesmen, economists and reformers together. And upset them more deeply, because few people take their politics or economics seriously, but when a young person finds he or she has Glamour there is nothing you can do about it. You have just got to wait for it to wear off.

COLLECTIVE SECURITY TEST

Ludwig Love in New York Post
Why did Hitler give no marching orders to his army after he had learned that Czechoslovakia was massing her troops near the Reich border? Was it because he had never thought of invading the neighbor republic? On the contrary, there is ample proof that all preparations had been made for a march on Prague. He changed his plans when France made it plain that her army would get into immediate action in case of a German invasion and England followed with similar representations. There has never been any doubt that the Soviet Union would protect herself by defending Czechoslovakia. This combination was too much for the Fuehrer.

For the first time collective security was put to the test and it won. It should give those who sneer at the possibility of co-operation among the world's democracies pause to think how easy it would be to hold the Fascist powers in check if the United States joined Britain, France and Russia. It has been my conviction for a long time that London would have to join Paris for the protection of Prague as soon as an emergency occurred. The events of these last days proved that collective security can work and will work if we give it a chance.

Dewdney Aftermath

From North Vancouver Review

THE TUMULT AND the shouting, and only a few random after-thoughts remain about the Dewdney by-election. The Liberal government triumphed, adding one more seat to an already impressive majority. The most interesting feature, however, was not the winner but the loser. Neither the Conservatives nor the C.C.F. lost in public esteem by their valiant efforts to win the seat for their cause. The real loser was the Vancouver Daily Province.

From the very start of the campaign, the editorial columns of the Province belched for a flood of innuendo, insinuation, vituperation and downright abuse against the Pattullo administration. The fact that no other party was supported by the paper was apparently quite immaterial. It was sufficient to the editorial writer that a bitterly anti-Pattullo article should head the daily editorial columns. To that lofty purpose he devoted his unusual talents.

The historic traditions of British parliamentary practice that a by-election be used by a government in power as a test of public opinion, was quite ignored. The fact that the Premier dared to stake the record of his government in a traditionally Conservative riding was regarded only as an unwarranted and impertinent intrusion. Any mention of the record of achievement of his government was disparaged as exhuming the dead past. Any mention of his plans for the future was blazoned forth as a barefaced bribe to the electorate. Such was the brave campaign waged by the Province in a district accustomed to take its politics seriously, but sanely and sensibly.

THE ELECTORS OF Dewdney are farmer folk, intelligent, industrious and hard-thinking people, the very backbone of the province. In a world so sorely harassed by dictators and totalitarian states, it is comforting to think that these electors showed the high value they put on the very essence of democracy—the right to a free and secret ballot—by trooping to the polls in record numbers. A Liberal member was elected by the simple and accepted method of securing the largest number of votes. Both the Conservative and C.C.F. candidates, although naturally disappointed in not carrying their party banner to victory, were sporting enough in the British sense to congratulate the winner and wish him well. Everyone seems satisfied with the verdict of the electorate. That is, everyone but the Vancouver Daily Province.

Instead of accepting the mandate of the people in the same sporting manner as the defeated candidates, or instead of realizing that it had defeated itself by overplaying its hand, and keeping silent, the Province chose to vent burst entitled "A Pyrrhic Victory." Because the electors of its spleen in one final petulant Dewdney, after due deliberation, had chosen by democratic procedure the candidate whom the Province in its omnipotence had so bitterly opposed, the whole election is condemned as "a success achieved by appeals to credulity, cupidity and fear." The electors of Dewdney are wrong, the editor of a city paper 50 miles away is the one who is right. Democracy has so obviously failed that it was much better in future for the good folks of Dewdney to leave the election of a member to the hands of the Vancouver Daily Province.

HOW DIFFERENT is the editorial comment of the 81-year-old Victoria Colonist, the staunchest, most loyal Tory newspaper in all this broad Dominion: "There was no particular issue in the campaign, save, perhaps, that of the record of the government, and that has been approved by the election of the Liberal candidate. Mr. D. W. Strachan deserves congratulations on the result, as, indeed, does the government in having wrested the seat from the Conservatives." To fight hard, to win modestly and to lose good-naturedly is as British as the oaks on the uplands to this bulwark of Conservatism.

The second paragraph in the Province editorial unconsciously achieves a jocular note, however. In condemning the riding it says: "He has only added another slavish supporter to his following when he might have had that which he needs much more—an intelligent, constructive critic."

The unquestionable bad taste of so describing the successful candidate, a highly respected farmer who has formerly served his province well, may be dismissed as in keeping with the editorial tone of the paper. The jocular note occurs in the final phrase, "an intelligent and constructive critic." Many would doubt the ability of the Province to discern anything constructive. But many more will appreciate the delightful manner in which its final roadside recollections on the very party it has indirectly

Civil Service Reactions

From a Civil Service Correspondent

OBVIOUSLY, images must be removed from realities, and the farther removed the greater their chances of idolatry. Before the Rowell Commission, certain factions set up the government at Ottawa—apart from political color—as the idol to which we in B.C. should make sacrifice. The outstanding image-makers are the boards of trade represented by H. R. McMillan, a modest chap who said he was the spokesman for some 380,000 people of the province, which would be about the entire voting population. However, certain contradictions have appeared in the press and it is now shown by John Whittle, the Board of Trade official who prepared the brief, that this idol making, started in the East with a questionnaire submitted to the Boards of Trade in the province by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Now we are getting somewhere. Reichsfuehrer Hitler is not the only one who knows how to make use of propaganda.

After perusing the "pillars of wisdom" presented to the Rowell Commission by the Boards of Trade we should be thankful that our destinies are in the hands of politicians and not decided by quacks. By comparison the press reports show the Legislature as the greatest bulwark of security in the possession of the people of British Columbia, and the processes of abolition should begin with the nuisances.

The Boards of Trade would economize until we stagnate and increase the relief rolls until they included half the people of the province; they would place the entire collection of income tax in the hands of the Dominion Government, while in their opinion, the social services, such as old age pensions, minimum wage, hours of work, etc., are bringing about the economic collapse of our industrial system.

They are greatly concerned about the cost of government and the cost of the civil service. According to their figures—which are greatly exaggerated—the provincial government's operating expenses are $30,000,000 annually. They overlook the fact that whatever the cost we are getting proportionate services, and further, the money is being circulated in the province and eventually the greater part of it will reach the pockets of the farmers of the Boards of Trade. Eliminate the payroll of the civil service in Victoria and it is obvious that half our merchants would go out of business; telephone and similar services would be about equal to those of the rural districts, and the old town would revert to the status of the familiar flag-station. Vancouver also obtains a fair share of this government expenditure, and without it the whole of the province would be economically paralyzed. Civil servants are in the same position as any other workers; when the end of the month comes around their earnings have been turned over to tradesmen and merchants—a necessity in the ordinary process of living.

The Boards of Trade are dwelling in antiquity, back in the time when society was regulated by the common law, and merchants operated on a 5 per cent gross profit basis instead of the 50 per cent standard of today, after taxes, etc., are charged to the consumer. More regulation is now necessary, and the cost of government is increased accordingly. It is not new, it has been going on for decades.

Parallel Thoughts

So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.—Ether 7:10.

God's mill grinds slow but sure.—Herbert.

If peace is ever to come to the world it will not come merely by joining peace societies. It will come by facing facts and accepting responsibilities.—Lady Nancy Astor.

sought to aid by its anti-Pattullo campaign. The sentence reads, once again, "what it so badly needs—an intelligent and constructive critic"—not "another intelligent and constructive critic," mind you. Anscomb, Matland, et al. seem even more completely demolished by this barrage than the Pattullo government.

WHAT WE NEED

To the Editor:—This island has gold, silver, copper, coal and oil. These products are to be found outcropping, ready to start on supplying the world. We don't have to go to the north or any other part of B.C. We have it right within a few miles of Victoria. A veteran prospector has found all of these. All we need in Victoria are some financiers that will do something in opening up these outcrops which will make Victoria four times the city it is today. What we need today is mining operations and a big pay roll.

ARTILLERYMEN HOLD REUNION

Members of 15th Brigade
Talk Over Old Times; Hear
About Old Scenes

Eighty-eight members of the 15th Brigade, C.F.A., Association celebrated the 22nd anniversary of their departure for France, on Saturday night in Spencer's dining-room. Sergt. King, president of the association, extended greetings to those in attendance.

After the silent toast and the honoring of the King the members listened to two short speeches. Major George Paulin proposed the toast to the 15th Brigade, and it was replied to by Lieut.-Col. Vincent McKenna, who left with the brigade as a lieutenant.

Gunner Victor Pawcett, who recently visited England and France, told of the condition of some of the old stamping grounds of the brigade. He said Witley, where the 15th Brigade spent considerable time, was now covered with gorse. While the actual battle areas in France could not be recognized he said the towns behind the lines where the troops were billeted were unchanged.

Driver Ralph Cruickshanks, who has filled the office of secretary of the association for a number of years, was presented with a silver entree dish for his services.

Letters from members of the association who are residing in many parts of the Dominion were read.

Gunners Ernie Greenwood of Seattle, Signaller A.L. Bamford of Seattle and Gunner Dan McBrady of San Francisco attended the gathering, as well as a number of artillerymen from up-land points and Salt Spring Island.

Gunner Lawrence Abbott rendered several solos and community singing was led by George Ozard.

Sergt. Major James Stuckey was in charge of the parade and Signaller J. Williams was quartermaster-sergeant. Others on the committee were: Sergt. Charles Conyers, Sergt. G. L. Foulkes, Sergt. Archie Wills, Driver Alf Dowell and Gunner Percy Gilson.

Exercises Of Congress Open

Eight Days Retreat Started
in St. Andrew's Cathedral
Sunday

The preliminary exercises of the Eucharistic Congress have already begun with the opening on Sunday night in St. Andrew's Cathedral of the eight days' retreat. The cathedral was crowded to capacity before the beginning of the services, which consisted of the Rosary of the Blessed Virgin, benediction and a sermon on "The Real Presence" by the well-known oblate missionary, Rev. D. J. Moriarty.

The various committees in charge of the event are this week completing arrangements for next Sunday. There will be a general meeting of these committees on Wednesday night of this week after the retreat devotions in the K. of C. Hall. His Excellency Bishop Cody will preside and a report of progress made will be submitted by each chairman.

Special transportation facilities by boat, bus and rail will be provided for visitors from Vancouver, Seattle and island towns for the occasion. At present accommodation is being sought by the housing committee for the many visitors who have signified their intention of being present.

In many of the dioceses of Canada from the feast of the Ascension to June 25 a Eucharistic Congress has already been, or will be, held as a preparation for the great national congress at Quebec from June 22 to 25. Bishop Cody has received messages of congratulation and encouragement for the local congress from the Apostolic Delegation at Ottawa and from Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec.

FESTIVAL WEEK IS UNDER WAY

Governor at Opening Tonight; Courtenay Play Wins

Formal opening of the seventh annual British Columbia Drama Festival will take place tonight at 8, in the Shrine Auditorium. Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber will declare the function officially under way. Four plays are listed for presentation, with the following teams competing: Progressive Arts Players, the Curtain Club, the PUNCH and Judy Theatre, and the Victoria Little Theatre Association.

Saturday, when the first plays were presented, Courtenay Elementary School won the silver cup for the best of the upper island intermediate entries with the play, "Catherine Parr," in which Bob McPhee had the role of Henry VIII, Doris Cowie of Queen Catherine and Roger Hughes of a page.

Mrs. Yvonne Firkins of Vancouver, the adjudicator, said the play, directed by G. William Stubbs, was an ambitious one for young performers. McPhee did an exceptionally good job, she said, with good poise, self-possession and "miraculous" makeup. She thought Doris Cowie was slightly miscast and inclined to muffle her lines in the crying scenes.

Junior Artistic Players of Vancouver gave a performance of "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Glaspell. Directed by Carleton St. C. Clay, the actors were Mary Hawkins, Barry Sleigh and Lillian Ekelin. Mrs. Firkins found a lack of rhythm or timing in this but said diction was good.

John Oliver High School Dramatic Club presented Alice Gerstenberg's "The Pot, Boiled," directed by R. C. Harris. The seven players in the cast were Andy Johnston, Llewellyn Davies, Arlie Mills, Myrtle Selnes, Fred Baldwin, James McAree and Ernest Perrault. Mrs. Firkins said she had never seen this play done better. The cast showed a nice sense of burlesque and their teamwork was good.

Drama Meetings Are Arranged

Arrangements for meetings in connection with the B.C. Drama Festival were announced today.

The Pacific Drama Conference will be held in the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel Wednesday at 8 under the chairmanship of Miss Kathleen Agnew.

Among the speakers will be Madame Sarah Truax Albert, nationally known actress, who will discuss the amateur drama movement viewed by a professional; A. M. D. Fairbairn on the emotional significance of line, color, form, mass and balance in theatrical stage setting and in grouping the players; Mrs. Vivienne Ramsay, an illustrated lecture on makeup; Dr. Henrietta Anderson on the place of drama in modern education; Professor Lauer, dean of University College, Washington State; and Miss Beatrice Lennie, an illustrated talk on "Masks."

Friday morning at 10 in the Empress Hotel a play directors' conversation will be held under chairmanship of W. B. Crawley. Anyone interested in play direction is invited.

Salt Spring Man Has Foot Crushed

GANGES HARBOR—T. Franks of South Salt Spring met with an accident Thursday while trying to clear a log jam for D. Crawford of Fulford Harbor. He fell between the logs, having his right leg and foot badly crushed.

He was rushed to Victoria for X-ray examination, being brought back later to the Gulf Islands Hospital at Ganges, where he will be a patient for some weeks.

YOUTH COUNCIL

At a meeting of the Victoria and District Youth Council, Nigel Morgan, president, announced that Ernie Bishop would be in Victoria from the National Youth Congress within the next few days and would address a meeting.

It was also decided that a picnic be held on June 26.

Suggestions were made whereby the council could be enlarged for more constructive work next fall. Neil Butler was authorized to prepare a paper on "Slum Clearance" as a foundation for future work.

Disgusted With Women's Groups

CALGARY (CP)—Mrs. Harold W. Riley, president of the Alberta Council on Child and Family Welfare, told the council on Saturday she was disgusted with women's organizations for failing to tackle economic problems and trailing after men.

"I am disgusted with the way women's organizations in Canada are failing to tackle problems," she said. "If it's controversial we can't touch it. But if we are a progressive organization there should be no subject we can't discuss even if we might not be in favor of taking a stand about it. "Women have had the franchise for 20 years but where has it got them? If we women had started agitation for a work and wages program five years ago, for instance, we would have had it by this time and saved this generation."

"Women have just been trailers after men, lining up with political parties—on committees because the men want a cup of tea served as Nellie McClung once said."

"Women have two great weaknesses, the fact that their sympathy gets the better of them and that women won't support women. They'll take another woman's idea for a cake recipe but when it comes to following women they won't do it. Economic problems today are going to be solved by economic experts, but progressive social legislation depends on women."

Mrs. George E. Moss of Seattle, who has been renewing acquaintance in Victoria after 31 years' absence, returned home this afternoon.

Sergt. J. B. Peacey arrived in the city Saturday to visit his mother, Mrs. M. James Peacey, Pinehurst Apartments, Dallas Road, on his way to Akavik, N.W.T., where he expects to spend the next three years.

Mrs. R. N. Kelly of Regina arrived in Victoria Saturday by Ss. Princess Maquinna from Zeballos, where she attended the wedding of her son, Dr. J. K. Kelly to Miss Virginia Goddard of Sidney. After spending the weekend in the city Mrs. Kelly left for her home.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lambert, 483 Superior Street, the Lafo-Lot Club held a surprise party in honor of Mr. Geo. Lambert, who will leave the city shortly. During the evening Rev. W. L. Holder, on behalf of the club, presented Mr. Lambert with a pipe. Games and contests were the feature of the evening. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Amelia Simpson of Seaton Road today is celebrating her 80th birthday. Born in England, she came out to British Columbia in 1887 and settled in Vancouver. It was the year after the great fire there. She moved to Victoria with her family about 35 years ago. She has two daughters, Mrs. F. Scholey, 1441 Walnut Street, and Mrs. A. Rudene, Vancouver, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Scholey's children.

The September 39 class of the Royal Jubilee Hospital held a shower reception for its former president, Miss Frances Cosstick, whose marriage is to take place shortly. The home of Mrs. H. P. Foster, Foul Bay Road, was the scene of the event. A table lamp, the gift of the class to Miss Cosstick, was wheeled into the room in a pretty slipper decorated in pale pink and blue by little Miss Ruth Porter. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Porter.

I.O.D.E. Convention Opens In Vancouver

Power of Order Stressed in Reports at Opening Business Session of Annual Meeting

VANCOUVER (CP)—Marjorie L. Gillard of Toronto, national secretary of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, reported the order's magazine now had a circulation of 15,000 copies an issue, an increase of 1,000 over last year. The magazine operated at a net loss of $313.25 during the year, due to high cost of printing the special Coronation number.

She said the I.O.D.E. had important work to do in promoting unity in its own organization and in Canada, as well as in promoting loyalty to King and Empire.

"The methods employed to secure these desirable ends and the records of the work undertaken and accomplished by the order throughout Canada and in other parts of the Empire can best be disseminated through the order's family newspaper, Echoes," she said.

The British Columbia provincial report said 19 chapters in the province had recorded 100 per cent subscription to the paper, leaving only three in which all members did not subscribe.

Wide publicity. The convenor of the press and publicity committee, Mrs. Hugh Johnson of Toronto, said "an amazing amount of publicity" had been accorded the order by the press of Canada, "the interest and co-operation of which is greatly appreciated."

Official opening. Opening ceremonies were held Saturday night when Mrs. W. G. Lumbers of Toronto, national president, pleaded for unity within the Empire and the Dominion.

Committee meetings were held Friday and Saturday and yesterday, delegates attended a service of intercession at Christ Church Cathedral and laid a wreath on the Cenotaph in Victory Square. Mrs. Lumbers spoke after delegates heard greetings from Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the Governor-General, and from Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber and civic officials.

Lady Tweedsmuir expressed admiration for the I.O.D.E.'s courage and enthusiasm in attacking the difficult problems of the day and wished the delegates a successful convention.

The Lieutenant-Governor expressed tribute to the order's accomplishments of "practical patriotism as compared to jingoism."

"Your sincere and sustained services to humanity, your education and child welfare efforts, your fostering of goodwill with

Vol. and Mrs. F. A. Lindsay of Victoria are at the St. Regis Hotel, New York.

Mrs. Z. Taylor Wood of Vancouver has returned to her home on the mainland after visiting in Victoria with Mrs. David Doig, the Uplands.

Mr. R. W. Gibson, York Place, left yesterday afternoon for the mainland on his way to Winnipeg, where he will spend a few weeks.

Mrs. R. McQuarrie of Vancouver, has returned to the mainland after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. C. S. Gonsalon, Dallas Road.

Mrs. F. A. Jackman of Jasper, who has been visiting here for a few days with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tice, Beach Drive, left on her return trip yesterday.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent on Saturday when Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, Oliver Street, Oak Bay, opened her home for a demonstration of rhythmic band music given under the direction of Miss Barbara Fraser. The children taking part ranged in age from three to seven years and entered thoroughly into the fun and joy of the work. Following the program, tea was served by Mrs. Beckwith to the many parents and friends attending.

A surprise farewell party was held at the home of Mr. J. Bourke, 2333 Blanshard Street, on Saturday night in honor of Loretta and Frank Mooney, who will leave for Winnipeg during June. Dancing and games were enjoyed. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses and peonies. The hostess, Miss Victoria Bourke, presided, and a buffet supper was served. The self-invited guests were: Misses Madeleine Ciceri, Patricia Prescott, Mary Doherty, Edmee Gagnon, Margaret Turner, Margherita Bourgeois and Ella Hood and Messrs. Ted Meredith, Dick Baines, Al. St. Martins, John Gilles, Bill Martin, Tom Rafferty, Herb Fulthorp and Walter Crowden.

Mrs. W. R. Gunn entertained at the tea hour at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Gill of Quadra Street have returned home after a week's trip along the west coast as far as Zeballos, where they spent a few days. They returned by Ss. Princess Maquinna.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wasson of Nelson, after a short visit in Victoria, during which they were the guests of Mrs. Wasson's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Lennox, Rockland Avenue, have left for their home.

Mr. A. B. Woodridge of "Bexley Place," Gordon Head, who has been spending the last three months in Winnipeg, returned home on Saturday. He was met in Vancouver by Mrs. Woodridge.

Mr. George Stock, who will leave for England shortly to join the Royal Air Force, was guest of honor at a farewell supper party given at his home on Cedar Hill Road Friday evening by St. Alban's and Oaklands Young People. Games, singing and dancing formed the program, prizes being won by Vera Gibbons, Peggy Day, Jack Stevenson and Art Davies. Walter Hamilton, Jack Davies and Mrs. Stock assisted at the piano. Supper was served by Mrs. Stock, Mrs. May-Smith and Mrs. McDougall. Gay summer flowers adorned the drawing-rooms. On behalf of the groups Miss Lenora Trickett, president of the A.Y.P.A., presented the guest of honor with a signet ring and extended wishes for his success and safety. Those invited included: Vera Gibbons, Margaret Henry, Lenora Trickett, Dorothy Cronk, Maude Deane Freeman, Peggy Day, Audrey Gibbons, Mabel Viggers, Joyce Beecher, Maude Land, Marguerite Anderson, Marjorie McDougall, Bernice Buttress, Muriel Purdy, June Thorne, Lillian Knowles, Doreen Penketh, Rupert May-Smith, Norman Land, Jack Miller, Walter Hamilton, Jack Davies, Jack Stevenson, Arthur Davies, David Stock and Kenneth Wellwood.

Indian Theme In Setting Of Dinner

Business and Professional Women Hold Annual Banquet

In an Indian setting carried out with miniature tepees, Indian figures, totem poles, and little flower-decked mossy pools, the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual banquet at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, on Saturday night.

There were many out-of-town guests among the 75 women who sat at dinner at the charmingly decorated tables. Mrs. A. Longley, president of the club, was in the chair.

The greetings of the club were extended to the guests by Mrs. H. V. Bartholomew. Miss Doris Holmes, representing the Victoria Sororist Club, replied. A message of greeting from Miss Lena Phillips was brought by Miss Elsie Richardson, who gave the toast to the International Federation. Mrs. Case, of the Washington State Federation, replied.

The progress made by women in the business world was pointed out by Miss Margaret Clay in her reply to the toast to the Canadian Federation, moved by Miss Agnes Robertson of Nanaimo.

The Indian setting was carried out in the lounge of the hotel, where the members and guests adjourned after the dinner. There was an Indian camp-fire scene, with totem poles and trees, around which Indian maidens were arrayed. A fascinating old Indian legend was told by Mrs. H. M. Hall.

MRS. CASH SPEAKS
Mrs. Gwen Cash, as speaker of the evening, gave interesting and the ultimate hope of world peace is of inestimable value," he said.

DRIFT FROM EMPIRE
Mrs. Lumbers expressed doubt as to whether it was as wise as statesmen thought to give Canada the status of a nation. She deplored what she said was a tendency of drift away from the Empire.

"There is even a suggestion of abolishing the King's representative," she said.

She did not feel it was desirable to change the flag.

"While it is reasonable that we may need a Canadian flag for special occasions, we shouldn't discard the Union Jack for general use," she said. "Talk of a Canadian flag savors too much of cutting loose from the Empire and setting up our own house-keeping."

The national president defended flag-waving as an emotional symbol showing a desire for patriotic service.

"We are a free people, but sometimes too much freedom is as bad as too little. Canada is a great country but too small to be divided by dissent. We need unity among our provinces."

The monthly meeting of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the municipal chapter headquarters, 202 Union Building, View Street. Members wishing to attend the luncheon for National Chapter delegates at the Beach Hotel on Friday are advised to make reservations by phoning Miss M. Lee at E 5044.

informal reminiscences of her own experiences in various jobs since she came to Canada. She entitled her talk, "Making a Job for Yourself."

A piano solo by Mr. William Irvine and two amusing monologues by Miss Vivien Combe were features of the entertainment.

The dinner had a special significance in that it was held on the tenth anniversary of the first dinner of the Kuntuks Club, which later became the Business and Professional Women's Club, and at the same place.

Among the special guests at the function were Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the Victoria Local Council of Women; Mrs. H. L. Smith, president of the University Women's Club; Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, Mrs. Reed Page Clark, wife of the United States consul; Miss Isabel Grant, Seattle; Miss Jane Mills and Miss Anne Sturgeon, Everett; Miss F. ## SOCIETY

Mr. L. Ashburnham, Hampshire Road, and Miss Doreen Ashburnham returned today after a motor trip to California.

Miss A. J. Fawcett, Menzies Street, has gone to Vancouver on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. George Walkem.

Mrs. J. Gorman entertained this afternoon with four tables of bridge at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McLaren, Linden Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Horton, Shasta Place, have staying with them Mr. Horton's mother, Mrs. L. G. Horton, and Miss Dorothy Noonan, both of Seattle.

Mr. Denton Holmes of Los Angeles arrived today to spend a month here with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Denton Holmes, at the Dorchester, Oak Bay.

Colonel and Mrs. Victor Spencer, Mrs. A. J. T. Taylor and Miss Kathleen Taylor, all of Vancouver, have returned home after spending a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spencer of Joan Crescent. They came to Victoria to attend the private showing of Miss Myfanwy Spencer's paintings.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Firkins, who have been spending their honeymoon on the mainland, returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon and will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. L. Firkins, Clover Avenue, before leaving for Trail, B.C., where they will make their home. Mrs. Firkins is the former Miss Edna Horne.

Miss Margaret Tuson was guest of honor recently at a personal shower given by Miss Thelma Williams at her home, 2169 Beaver Street. On her arrival the bride-to-be was led to a decorated table on which the attractive gifts were arranged. The table was covered with a Madeira cloth and sprinkled with confetti and colored streamers. At the top of the table stood a miniature bride, between silver vases of London pride. Later supper was served from a lace-covered table.

Miss Gwen Wright was hostess to a number of her friends at a tea party given on Saturday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent, Oak Bay Avenue. A cut glass bowl of mauve sweet peas and mauve tapers in crystal holders formed the table decorations. The Misses Josephine Wilson, Constance Stephens, Buntie Sloan and Betty Thatcher, poured tea and coffee, and the Misses Audrey Borman, Patricia Boyd, Enid Long, Suzanne Pilmley, Jean Murdoch, Mary Stephens, Margaret Howgoyd and Betty McMurray assisted with the serving. The invited guests were the Misses Audrey Eberts, Patsy Watson, Margaret Sutcliffe, Ursula Forbes, Helen Forbes, Honor Benson, Brenda Smith, Martha Armstrong, Josephine Wilson, Jacqueline Young, Ruby-Waites presiding. After the usual program Mr. George Ausley told a story, which was much appreciated. Tea was served at the close by Mrs. Imrie, Mrs. Cogswell, Mrs. Marmon and Mrs. Block.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the local Typographical Union will hold a bridge tea on Thursday afternoon next at 2:15, in the S.O.E. Hall, Broad Street. All friends are welcome.

The Girls' Auxiliary of Christ Church Cathedral is planning a novelty silver tea, to be held in the gymnasium of the Memorial Hall on Wednesday. An interesting program has been arranged, with several numbers by pupils of the Western School of Dancing. Others contributing to the program will be the Misses Jean Elliott, Enid Middleton, Peggy Walton and Rosemary Noakes. As this is to be the major effort before the holidays the members are hoping to welcome a great number of friends and visitors.

Mrs. Spencer Again Head Of Council

Officers Elected at Closing Session of National Meeting

VANCOUVER (CP)—The National Council of Women affirmed the election by acclamation of four Dominion officers on Saturday, as its annual convention closed.

Mrs. George O. Spencer of Moncton was re-elected president of the council in elections throughout Canada, and the convention today ratified the voting.

Honorary corresponding secretary is Mrs. Edgar D. Hardy of Ottawa; honorary recording secretary, Mrs. Robert J. Marshall of Toronto; and Mrs. C. E. Bourne of Montreal, honorary treasurer. Seven members were appointed representatives of the N.C.W. of Canada at the International Council of Women's convention to be held in Edinburgh July 11 to 22 this year.

They were Mrs. G. Spencer, Mrs. James Roberts of Hamilton, Mrs. Harold Oxley and Miss G. Faulkner of Halifax, Mrs. J. S. Delahaye of Kingston, Mrs. Thomas Bingham of Vancouver, and Mrs. R. F. Wilson of West Algoma, Ont. Three other delegates will be appointed later.

Mrs. Spencer was appointed to represent the council at the convention of the world Y.W.C.A. in Muskoka, Ont., in September.

PERSONAL LIBERTY

The council discussed attacks on personal liberty in Canada at its Saturday session, but a resolution on the subject was withdrawn when several delegates said the resolution was vague and others stated they did not know what they were voting about.

The resolution was brought in by the resolutions committee and stated that in view of such attacks as evidenced in widespread parts of Canada, the council was urged to take a firm stand in the support of principles of democratic

Plans Made For P.T.A. Meeting

Final plans are being completed for the Parent-Teacher Association rally to be held on Friday evening at 8 in the school board room, City Hall.

Dr. George Black of the University of British Columbia will give an address on the activities of the provincial Parent-Teacher Federation. Mrs. J. P. Leeming, Duncan, School trustee, who is vice-president of the federation and its official representative on Vancouver Island, will also speak.

It is hoped that officers and members of all the parent-teacher bodies in and around Victoria will attend the rally. Arrangements are in the hands of the three Victoria associations at present affiliated with the provincial federation, James Bay, Margaret Jenkins and Quadra. Trustee Percy E. George, chairman of the school board, will take the chair at the rally.

government and in opposition to repressive movements.

PADLOCK LAW

Mrs. J. W. McNally, president of the Montreal Local Council, said her organization had devoted a full meeting to the study of the Padlock Law in Quebec, and had even sought legal advice. The Montreal council decided to refer the matter to its affiliated societies, but the majority of these took no action.

She said the general opinion was that the Padlock Law was a laudatory effort to oust Communism and that confiscated literature had been of a Communist nature.

The resolution was then withdrawn.

A resolution was passed asking the federal government to increase the present grant for vocational training from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000.

Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of the British Columbia Legislature, and Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberal member, both favored this resolution. Mrs. Smith said the industrial side of the training should be stressed. She believed there lay in it a solution to the unemployment problem and prevention of such occurrences as "sit-down" protests.

Mrs. Edgar Hardy, Ottawa, National corresponding secretary, said it must be remembered that increased federal grants came out of the taxpayers' pockets.

A second resolution on this subject commended the federal government for providing the present $1,000,000 grant.

The council decided the forty-sixth annual convention would be held at Hamilton, Ont., next spring. The date was not set.

A suggestion by Kingston delegates that the 1938 executive meeting be held there was referred to the executive for consideration.

REPORT FROM FATHER
YOU KNOW SINCE I'VE BEEN BATHING WITH LIFEBOUY I FEEL FRESH ALL DAY LONG I NEVER WORRY ABOUT 'BO' ANYMORE I KNOW I'M SAFE I SAY LIFEBOUY'S GRAND SOAP

COMPLIMENTS FOR MOTHER
MOTHER YOUR SKIN'S AS CLEAR AND SMOOTH AS A CHILD'S! THANKS TO OUR CHILD'S ADVICE ABOUT LIFEBOUY! WE'LL NEVER USE ANY OTHER TOILET SOAP!

Tests prove Lifebuoy 20% milder
MILLIONS of women who started to use Lifebuoy for the bath now use it for complexion—exclusively! The same special purifying ingredient in the hygienic lather that stops "B.O." also makes the action of Lifebuoy milder . . . 20% milder by skin test than many so-called "beauty" and "baby soaps." This gentle lather penetrates your pores, removes all beauty-marring impurities . . . Leaves your skin smoother, alluring.

Women prefer Lifebuoy for the bath
More Canadian and American women use Lifebuoy for the bath than any other soap . . . And it's equally a favourite with men and children . . . 125,000 interviews by eleven leading magazines reveal these facts . . . For Lifebuoy stops "B.O." gives you lasting freshness. When you emerge from your Lifebuoy bath you're fresh . . . pepped up . . . confident . . . on top of the world!

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

TUESDAY, MAY 31, 1938

Benefic planetary aspects rule

as the month closes. According to astrology this should be a stimulating and inspiring day.

It is fortunate for launching new projects, especially if they are artistic. Summer theatres should profit, as talent and training will be more general than in any previous season.

Merchants should find this a profitable rule. Trade in summer clothing will be brisk. Extreme heat is to be widespread and cool attire will be needed. Sudden and severe electrical storms may be expected.

The evening of this day should be lucky for romances. Girls may find love and wealth combined in suitors of this date.

Both men and women should find this an auspicious time for seeking employment. Many clerical positions will be opened in coming weeks, when national exigencies require extra clerks.

While war will be discussed as a possibility for the United States

as well as Europe, the seers forecast dangers near home.

Fires may be numerous through the summer. A film studio may sustain heavy losses. Public buildings are likely to be damaged.

Changes in management of newspapers are prognosticated.

Notable careers of editors and publishers will close at a time when world events assume strange portents.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of joy and success. Subjects of this sign of Gemini may expect good fortune.

Children born on this day probably will be mentally alert and physically fit. Gemini subjects succeed in widely different fields and often are exceedingly versatile and talented.

Walter Folger Brown, one-time

postmaster-general, was born on this day 1869. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Horatio Seymour, statesman, 1810; Charles Greeley Abbott, astro-physicist, 1872.

ACTION ON FIGHT CARD

Jack Patterson Decisions Metcalfe in Main Event at Armories

Jackie Patterson, one of the most promising of young fighters in the local crop, clouted out a five-round decision over Billy Metcalfe, a game mitslinging youth from Sooke, in the top go on the Canadian Scottish boxing show presented at the Armories Saturday night.

The 14 simon pures participating in this seven-bout show displayed lots of spirit and really mixed matters up when they locked horns in the squared circle and the fairly good representation of Victoria fight fans who turned up for the inaugural 1938 boxing display appeared to be well satisfied with the exhibitions, which were not lacking in excitement.

Patterson, a former wearer of the B.C. welterweight crown and fighting under the regiment's banner, tried to get in the knockout punch all evening. But the bombshell never landed, for he was unable to plant his blows very effectively on Metcalfe's bobbing and weaving frame. The Sooke lad, sun-tanned to a bronzed hue, although not as experienced as his opponent, won the hearts of the customers with his gameness and was landing some nice blows toward the end of the fight. The decision in Patterson's favor met with a liberal barrage of boos. Patterson weighed 170 pounds, Metcalfe 168.

ACTION BOUT

The best action bout of the evening was between Frank Fletcher, Port Angeles, and George Bishop, Scottish fighter. The outcome was a draw, a popular verdict with the fans. There was lots of leather throwing in this contest with both boys dishing out the punishment in big doses. They met in the 125-pound class.

After battering George Haslam, Fifth Brigade fighter, around for three sessions, blond-thatched Herbie Hardie of Port Angeles was declared winner via the decision route. The visitor showed good boxing style and lashed the Victorian quite soundly in the last two rounds. Hardie weighed 148 pounds, Haslam 145.

Two technical knockouts were scored during the evening. Dick Cummings, Port Angeles, finished Wall Christiansen, Victoria, in the third round of their three-round go, while Bobby Parker, Canadian Scottish belter, kayoed Alf Gorse, formerly of Cardiff, Wales, in the final round of their four-round mix. Gorse, subbing for a Port Angeles opponent, who did not show up, attempted to make a fight out of it, despite his years, and although he didn't show much boxing ability against the experienced Parker the fans liked him for his gameness. Parker weighed 118 pounds, five pounds less than his opponent.

Hughie Thompson won the nod over Bobby Woods in another three-round encounter. Thompson bore in under the long arms of his opponent and landed 80 per cent of the blows during the battle. They were both Canadian Scottish members. An interesting exhibition of mitt-cuffing was given by Graham and Terry James, 50-pounders, in the curtain raiser. It was a draw. Their father, Sgt. Stan James, arranged the card.

Royals-Radials Win Cup Soccer

VANCOUVER—New Westminster Royals and Vancouver Radials triumphed in first round Dominion championship series soccer games here Saturday.

The one-time Canadian champion Royals banged in three second-half goals to swamp Kerrisdale 4 to 1. The score was tied 1 to 1 at half time.

In the other battle, Radials edged out Vikings 2 to 1. All the scoring was done in the first half.

Mack, Garrison Track Champion

P.P.C.L.I. Corporal Scores Wins in Six Events in Annual Sports

Individual aggregate honors in the annual Garrison track and field championships held Saturday on the soccer field at Work Point went to Corporal Mack, member of the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry.

Mack chalked up first places in the half-mile, hurdles, pole vault, broad jump, discus and hammer and placed second in the shot putt.

Open competition and close finishes featured the meet, which drew a large following of spectators, both civilian and soldier. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

VICTORIA AND SEATTLE DRAW

Cricket Teams Tie in Saturday Afternoon Intercity Match

Victoria and district cricket teams swung into league play Saturday afternoon with the local eleven holding a visiting Seattle squad to a draw at Macdonald Park, and University School Incogs winning their first game of the season in a low-scoring match at Cowichan.

In their game at the James Bay enclosure Victoria put on 153 for five wickets, declared, and Seattle 50 for eight wickets. Incogs defeated Cowichan 52 to 23.

Batting first, Victoria was paced by Cyril Jones, who put on 75 not out, in the local eleven's initial stand at the wicket. After freely hitting the Seattle bowlers for 153 with the loss of only five wickets, Victoria declared their innings. W. H. Muncy led Seattle's defensive stand at the wicket, scoring 22 runs.

In the up-island match only two batsmen, Smith and R. Wenman of the Incogs, managed to reach double figures. Friendly matches played Saturday saw Five C's defeat Abilons 155 to 52 at Beacon Hill Park and Brentwood College register a 125 to 25 win over University School.

Victoria Polo Team Triumphs

Whips Duncan 7 to 2 in Hard-riding Game Before Large Crowd

The Victoria Polo Club galloped to a 7 to 2 victory over the Sonenos Outlaws from Duncan yesterday at the Foul Bay Road grounds before the largest crowd to witness a polo match in the city in recent years.

Victoria displayed a vastly improved brand of play to that of previous encounters with the up-island team, the locals taking advantage of a temporarily disorganized Duncan squad to drive home four goals in the opening chukker. After the first score Victoria was never headed.

Hazlewood banged home Victoria's first marker shortly after play commenced with a fine shot from a difficult angle. Tyson made it 2 to 0 on a fast passing play and no sooner was the ball in the loose when Boorman tallied on a fine solo effort. Hazlewood again, scored as the chukker ended.

DUNCAN SCORES

The second chukker was slower than the first, with Duncan riding a hard game. Hewlett cut the locals' lead by a goal but Victoria came right back when Carley drove Sturdy's pass between the posts.

Play ranged up and down at a fast pace in the third chukker and after narrowly missing twice, Tyson scored for Victoria. The fourth chukker was scoreless, while the fifth session saw Victoria go ahead on Wilson's drive from well out.

Duncan wound up the scoring in the final chukker with the Baissees, father and son combination, scoring the final tally. The two squads were slated to play again today.

A platinum nugget, weighing 13 pounds, was found in the Ural mountains.

Theft of $2 from a purse placed on a buffet in her home was reported to city police yesterday by Mrs. A. Bell, 308 Roberts Street.

A chromium-plated coffee set was stolen by thieves who last night entered the home of P. J. Mulcahy, 583 Marfield Avenue, according to a city police report.

Seven motorists were fined $2.50 each in the City Police Court this morning when they pleaded guilty to hour parking charges. An eighth was fined $5 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Fred Holmes gave a talk on home recording by radio at a meeting of the Victoria Short Wave Club held Saturday night at the home of W. J. Wilson, Cedar Hill Road. P. D'Alroy was elected a new member of the club.

According to word received at the City Hall on Saturday, R. W. Beck, electrical engineer and public utilities expert, will leave Chicago June 4 for Victoria to resume his study of the B.C. Electric franchise issue.

An inquest into the death of Royston Perkins, 19, who died as the result of an auto crash on the Island Highway Friday night, has been set for tomorrow morning at 11 at Curry's Funeral Home, Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, announced. Perkins was a passenger in a car driven by R. L. Eccles which left the highway, turned over and crashed into a fence.

Off on a three weeks' tour of northern and central British Columbia mining districts, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, will leave Vancouver this evening. He will travel by boat to Prince Rupert, then to Stewart, and inland through the Omineca and Cariboo districts, returning by way of Bridge River. He is expected to return to his office in Victoria about June 20.

The Credit Granters' Association will hold its last meeting of the spring season at Spencer's dining-room tomorrow at 12.10. The members who attended the Credit Conference at Portland recently will tell of the main features and benefits derived. All those who did not attend are asked to attend the meeting tomorrow and hear of the latest developments and ideas in handling credit.

Sound moving pictures entitled, "Million Miles of Airways," will be shown this evening in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium in conjunction with the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce general meeting. The movies depict the entire Imperial Airways system and features their latest trans-oceanic equipment. The public and members of the Aero Club are invited to attend the picture showing, which will start at 8.

The Young People's United Church Council of the Lower Island will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening at the Dallas Beach, two blocks from the foot of Douglas Street. Delegates in charge of the drama festival, oratorical contest and the council concert will submit written reports to complete the season's agenda. The meeting will start about 7.45 and will include discussion on softball tournaments, summer beach parties and Christian leadership training.

STRIKES ROCK DURING DIVE

D. Ashdown, Harriet Road, Has Chest Injured in Thetis Lake Accident

When knocked off balance by a dog while he was in the act of diving at Thetis Lake yesterday, Donald Ashdown, 3099 Harriet Road, hit a projecting rock before striking the water.

According to a city police report, Ashdown was swimming with companions at the lake when the accident happened and was immediately rushed to police headquarters, where he was given first aid for a lacerated chest and a badly cut hand.

Ashdown told police the dog had touched his leg just as he took off. He struck the projecting rock about 10 feet above water.

He was driven to town by Kenneth Crosby, 402 South-Turner Street. After police had attended his wounds Ashdown was driven home by Mr. Crosby.

WOMEN'S CORPS IN CITY URGED

Uniformed Legion Unit and Girl Drum Majors Suggested by Ald. Davies

A suggestion that Victoria women organize a Canadian Legion corps as the women of Port Townsend have done, and wear white dresses with scarlet-lined blue cloaks or some other attractive uniform, was made today by Alderman W. H. Davies as a result of his visit to Port Townsend.

The women of the U.S. Legion formed one of the outstanding features of the Rhododendron Festival parade there, Alderman Davies said. They marched smartly and were given enthusiastic rounds of applause at many points en route.

Alderman Davies also came back with the idea that Victoria should give consideration to the formation of a women's band and women drum majors to lead either women's or men's bands.

"There are many women musicians in the city and an attractive woman would add impressiveness and charm to a band by marching at its head in a smart colorful drum major's uniform," he said.

"Girl or women drum majors are rapidly ousting the men throughout the United States. They can wear brighter uniforms more naturally and gracefully and seem to be born to the job. Victoria is frequently referred to as a city of beautiful women, and there is no reason why it should trail behind the procession in accepting the new vogue of women's bands and women drum majors," he added.

CONFERENCE URGED

The warm reception accorded the Victoria delegation who attended the Port Townsend festival Friday and Saturday has strengthened Alderman W. H. Davies' conviction that there should be a conference of mayors and council representatives of northwest cities to co-operate on tourist attractions.

Port Townsend cordially appreciated the fact that Victoria sent a delegation, Alderman Davies said, and was extremely hospitable. The idea of combining with other northwest cities to attract to this section visitors who will attend the 1939 San Francisco fair seemed to appeal to them and if such a conference is arranged they will be represented.

Aldermen Alex Peden and B. J. Gadsden, Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Peden, Mrs. Gadsden, Ernest Harris, president, and Norman Foster, secretary of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, Charles Powell, Miss H. Wells and Miss Gwen Dewar were other Victoria delegates at the festival. The visitors were guests at Camp Warden during the day, where the whole camp turned out at sundown to see the Victoria Pipe Band beat retreat. The Victoria pipers also headed the Sunday parade.

FINE FLAG IS GIVEN PIPERS

Pipers of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, who participated in the Port Townsend Rhododendron Festival over the week-end, returned to Victoria today with a splendid reward, a gift from the rhododendron festival committee.

The pipers were particularly honored during the festival. In addition to leading the parade in that city yesterday, they played a retreat on the Ford Warden drill square and piped at other functions.

The flag they receive was one unfurled at the same time as a star-spangled banner during the festivities.

The funeral will be held from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2, with Rev. O. L. Jull officiating. Burial will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

NEW PAY PLAN FOR HOSPITAL

Suggest City Pay Straight Charge Required By Law Instead of Making Grant

If the recommendation of the combined health and relief committees is adopted, the city will pay the Jubilee Hospital at the statutory rate of 70 cents per patient day for city cases, instead of through the medium of a yearly grant.

A report to that effect was prepared for submission to the City Council tonight along with an outline of work done by the relief office in placing indigent hospital cases in foster homes.

"It is recommended that the authorities of the Jubilee Hospital be advised that after June 20 the city will be responsible only to the extent of 70 cents per day per patient for any city cases in the hospital," the report states in part. The annual grant made to the hospital is roughly computed on a 70-cent patient day, but has been somewhat above that during recent years.

The appended summary of cases placed in foster and private nursing homes covers 45 individuals who had previously been housed in the Jubilee Annex, as well as the hospital proper and St. Joseph's hospital.

The change was necessitated through the introduction by the provincial government of new regulations this year which made the city directly responsible for indigent cases who had been given hospitalization for more than 300 consecutive days.

Ten cases still remain in the Jubilee Hospital, but with the exception of three or four, arrangements have been made to place them in private nursing homes when they are discharged.

Charles Janes, Pioneer, Dies

Native son of Victoria, one-time sealer and Klondike miner, Charles Henry Janes of 3019 Quadra Street died this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was in his 63rd year.

He was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Janes. As a young man he sailed in sealing ships out of Victoria for several years, then went to the Klondike and mined there for some time.

For a number of years he was employed by the city of Victoria as a surveyor. Ill-health forced his retirement in 1914.

In the years since he retired much of his time was given to hunting and fishing.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Jean Marie and Margaret Alna, and one son, Charles Douglas.

The body is at Thomson's Funeral Home. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

CITY TO MAKE PRESENTATION

The Corporation of the City of Victoria, represented by the mayor and aldermen, was scheduled to express its appreciation to J. McL. Muirhead, retired senior of the comptroller's department, with a presentation after office hours today.

Mr. Muirhead has just com-

Veteran Dies

M. Lynn, Island Pioneer, Followed Trail of '98; Funeral Wednesday

Matthew Lynn, Vancouver Island pioneer, who followed the Trail of '98 to the Klondike, died this morning at his home, at 1728 Lee Avenue. He was in his 73rd year.

Born in Saltscoats, Scotland, he came to Canada 44 years ago and moved to Vancouver Island a year later. He lived first at Wellington, then at Extension.

He moved to Ladysmith during the '90s and it was from there that he went into the Klondike in 1898.

He was in the north for a year on that occasion, returning to Ladysmith in 1899. He went back to the Klondike in 1905 and 1910.

The gold rush brought him nothing but impaired health. During the Great War years he worked in the explosives factory on James Island, moving to Victoria at the end of 1918. He had made his home here since that time.

He is survived by his widow; here; two sisters, one in Scotland and one in the United States, and two brothers in Scotland.

Mr. Lynn was a member of Harmony Lodge No. 6, I.O.O.F., at Ladysmith. Members of the order will take part in the funeral service, to be led by Rev. J. Bell, in McCall Bros' Funeral Home at 2 on Wednesday afternoon. The burial will be at Royal Oak.

Play At Royal

"You Can't Take It With You," the Pulitzer Prize comedy of 1937 which has been convulsing theatre audiences throughout the country, will be presented at the Royal-Victoria Theatre June 6 and 7.

The frantic antics of the Sycamore family are more than merely moonbeams from the larger lunacy; they are a veritable moonbeam.

Aside from a mild love affair, which furnishes what plot there is, and a little easy-going philosophy about the benefits of relaxing, the play is mirth-provoking nonsense in the goofiest vein of knockabout farce. The goings-on of this daffy family, which retired from serious occupations a generation ago and since then has given itself up to indulging every whim, fad or hobby, is extravaganzas carried to its wildest extremes in an orgy of inventive idiocy. The authors, Messrs. Hart and Kaufman, are prize jesters and arch-purveyors of happy merriment.

No one who enjoys an evening of insanely ludicrous entertainment can afford to miss this celebrated fun-maker.

Germany and France, two of the favorites, won semi-final berths in the European zone Davis Cup tennis competition yesterday while a third favored team, Yugoslavia, suffered a setback in its opening match of the third round.

Leading 24 going into the third day's play against Hungary, Germany rang up its deciding point when Gerog von Metaxa, who formerly played for Austria, whipped George Dallos, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2. Then Henner Henkel took one set, 6-1, from Emil Gabory before rain halted play for the day.

France earned the right to play Germany in the semi-final when its doubles team of Henri Bolelli and Pierre Pelizzia beat Valentino Taroni and Ferruccio Quintavalle of Italy, 9-7, 6-3, 6-4.

In the lower half of the draw, Belgium won two matches to gain a 2-1 lead over India and Sweden took the first from Yugoslavia, which had conquered Czechoslovakia and Great Britain.

Anore Lacroix won the second singles match for Belgium, beating S. L. R. Sawhney, 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; then he paired with L. de Borman to defeat Sawhney and Glaus in doubles, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

Rain interrupted proceedings at Zagreb, where Sweden's Karl Schroeder defeated Josef Palada, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2, 6-8, 6-3, in the only match played.

MANY STARS

IN MUSICAL

"The Goldwyn Follies" at Plaza Today; Charlie McCarthy in Screen Role

All the greatest entertainers of the stage, the screen, the radio, the dance and grand opera put on the greatest show the screen has ever shown in Samuel Goldwyn's glorious technicolor screen musical, "The Goldwyn Follies," which has its premiere at the Plaza Theatre today.

Produced on the most magnificent scale of any musical in cinema history, this most ambitious of all the great Goldwyn's screen ventures does great credit to the name it bears.

Offering a cast headed by Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, radio's No. 1 stars; Adolphe Menjou; the Ritz Brothers; Zorina, the beautiful young premiere ballerina of the Ballet Russe, who is a splendid actress as well as a great dancer; Kenny Baker; Helen Jepson, the lovely Metropolitan Opera star who makes a brilliant film debut; Andrea Leeds, Phil Baker, Ella Logan, Bobby Clark, Jerome Cowan, the American Ballet of the Metropolitan Opera and the gorgeous Goldwyn Girls; "The Goldwyn Follies" is a movie fan's dream, combining every element of great entertainment in magnificent measure.

ICE QUEEN

AT OAK BAY

Sonja Henie Starred in 20th Century-Fox "Happy Landing"

A whole new world of joy-laden wonder comes winging from the snow-silvered Norway with Sonja Henie—radiant beyond imagining, in "Happy Landing," the 20th Century-Fox production which opened at the Oak Bay Theatre today.

This lithe, ecstatically graceful Norse nymph, who came to motion picture fans only two pictures ago and astonished the entire world with her skill as a skater and an actress, is radiantly reunited with her "One In A Million" sweetheart, Don Ameche, in her third hit, "Happy Landing."

Surpassing the breathless sensations of "Thin Ice" with scintillating songs, songs and more songs, by Pokras and Yellen, the wonder girl, breathlessly in love, veritably brings happy tidings, thrilling as even she never thrilled before.

"Bordertown"

At Atlas Show

Paul Muni and Bette Davis

Co-starring in Warner Picture

Two of the greatest stars of the modern screen, Paul Muni and Bette Davis, come to the Atlas today in their only co-starring picture, "Bordertown," which is brought back to this city by special arrangement with Warner Bros.

The picture, suggested by Carroll Graham's novel, is a stark, realistic picturization of the colorful life in a border town, with its night clubs and gambling resorts frequented by millionaires and bored society women seeking diversion.

It is in this atmosphere that Paul Muni, in the role of a foreign youth, rises to riches and power as the proprietor of a fashionable night club and gaming hall. Handsome, magnetic, he is loved by two women, one a fiery adventuress who slays her husband to try to win him, and, when scorned, charges him with the murder.

The other woman in the triangular romance is a society woman who plays with the handsome young proprietor of the night club.

Margaret Lindsay takes the role of the society woman.

Orczy Picture

At Dominion

One of the most popular characters in modern fiction is brought to the screen again in "The Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel," a new London film which is coming to the Dominion Theatre on Tuesday.

Twenty years ago Baroness Orczy was asked by a famous publishing house to supply a thrilling serial story in rather a hurry. Within 15 minutes of receiving the commission she had formulated mentally the story of "The Scarlet Pimpernel."

Capt. Cook's Visit to Easter Island

Easter Island is most famous for its stone statues, but there are other interesting things about it. For example, we find large rocks with queer pictures on them.

Figures of "bird men" carved on rock in Easter Island.

A study of the crude drawings shows they are meant as images of a being partly man and partly bird. The "bird man" is supposed to be a form of "Make-make," the god who is said to have created all birds. A new picture of the bird man was made each spring on this island of the South Pacific.

One hundred and sixty-four years ago, the great British seaman Captain Cook paid a visit to Easter Island. He arrived about half a century after the Easter Day visit by the Dutch, who gave the island its name.

Landing on a sandy beach, Cook and his sailors were greeted by hundreds of natives. Presents of bananas, sugar cane and sweet potatoes were given to the white men, and in return the natives received nails, looking-glasses, and pieces of cloth.

A small party was sent out to explore the island, and saw many farms on which the natives raised their few food products. The only "livestock" on the farms appeared to be poultry, the common chickens of so many barnyards in so many parts of the earth.

During the exploring journey, the sailors saw a number of stone statues which had fallen from the platforms on which they had stood. A member of the party measured the only fallen statue which had not been broken. It was 15 feet long and six feet wide.

On the eastern side of the island, the sailors saw many other statues, some standing in place, others lying on the ground. One of those on the ground was eight feet wide and 27 feet long.

The "children of nature" on this island did not seem to know it was wrong to steal. Any object they wanted which belonged to a white man, they took away if they could. Most of all they seemed to want hats and caps, and the visitors had to take care to keep their head-covering from being snatched off.

One reason the natives wanted hats was because the island had no large shade trees. They needed something to guard their heads from the hot sun.

After staying four days on Easter Island, Captain Cook and his men sailed away. We may fancy the wonderful stories about them which the natives told their children and children's children.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband wants children, but I don't. He says children make one happy. Do children really make a household happier?

R. F. B.

Answer: Of course, children are like everything else—they can be a crown of glory to their parents and bring them the greatest joy that a human being can know, or break their hearts with sorrow. But life is like that. There are no sure things in it.

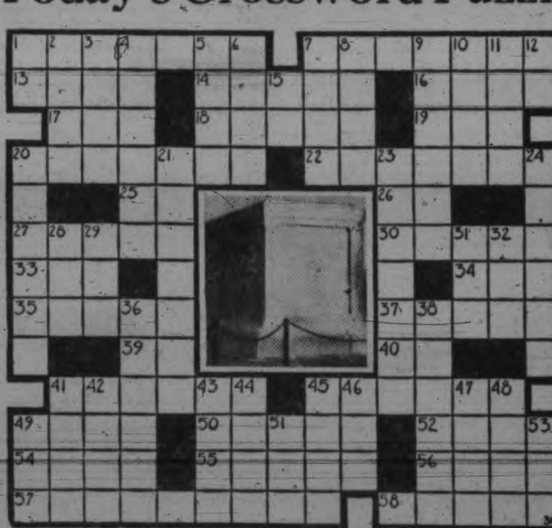

And, generally speaking, babies are, as the poet says, "a well-spring of joy in the house," and the married couples who have children are happier and more contented than those without. In fact, children are the best part of many marriages and atone to many a man and woman for a mate who is boring, narrow-minded, unsympathetic, tyrannical or nagging and who fails to give satisfaction.

To begin with, there is nothing else in the world quite so fascinating and interesting as a baby. As a pet he far exceeds a pup, a cat, a monkey or any other animal with which childless women seek to satisfy their craving for something little and cuddly to caress and the blue bows only. He will be up to a million tricks that will keep you amused and you will find that watching a little child's mind develop is the most illuminating and exciting diversion on earth. Moreover, he will fill your time so full you won't have leisure to wonder whether your marriage is as ideal as you thought it would be, and if your husband is really your soulmate or just a good provider.

If children were good for nothing else in the world, they would be a blessing just to keep their mothers from thinking too much about themselves. Children are the greatest known preventative of divorce. A lot of husbands and wives get to roaming around because they are so fed up with each other's society that they are bored and want somebody new to whom to talk. Little Johnny and little Susie supply this need. Fathers and mothers have a perennial exciting subject to discuss in the baby's tooth, and whether Johnny should be made to eat his spinach, and what schools the children should go to, and whom they should marry, and so on. Never a dull moment in the house in which there are children.

DOROTHY DIX.

YACHT RACE CALLED OFF

Auxiliary Cruisers Becalmed
By Failing Wind on Hein
Buoy Run

Auxiliary cruisers competing in the second event of the season for the Virtue Cup on Sunday failed to finish within the time limit and the race was called off. The race will have to be sailed over again, but no date has yet been set. It was announced this morning at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. The course yesterday was from Cadboro Bay to Hein Buoy and return, a total distance of 30 miles, the original intention to set the course to the Esquimalt Harbor buoy being changed because of adverse tidal conditions.

The cruisers entering the race were Harry Barnes' Minerva, Roy Denny's West Wind, Capt. R. S. Johnson's Chirra and Richmond II. The boats set out at 10.30 in a light southeast wind but about 5 the wind petered out.

Richmond II, the only one of the fleet to complete the course under sail, arrived back in Cadboro Bay 37 minutes over the time limit. The time limit was 10 hours. West Wind, Minerva and Chirra arrived back under power about 11.

The international star boats and dinghies on Saturday afternoon raced in a light southeast breeze over a course to Jimmy Chicken Island and return. Star finishing times were: Aquila 4:27.34, Aura 4:29.35, Boykin 4:33.51.

Dinghy finishing times were: Kismet 4:15.48, Penguin 4:16.56, Pancho 4:18.00, Onaway 4:18.45, Helen 4:19.44, Bandicoot 4:21.11, Tern 4:23.45 and Dabchick 4:23.46.

Tempered glass has gained commercial use only recently, but chemists are experimenting with it as early as 1875.

Prince Tokugawa On Red Cross Mission

Around the Docks

DIED AT SEA

When the President Jackson was one day out from Yokohama, on her voyage from the Orient to Victoria, Richard A. Glassman, the ship's chief butcher, succumbed to a heart attack.

Glassman, 59, resided at 216 Pontius Avenue, Seattle, and leaves a widow and six children. The body was embalmed and brought here for burial at Seattle tomorrow.

Glassman was a bandsman with the 14th Montana Volunteer Infantry during the Spanish-American War.

The Jackson made port at 9 last night from the Orient with six first class passengers and 6,000 tons of general cargo.

While alongside, Pier 1, Rlthet docks, the ship discharged 900 measurement tons of freight, including 600 bales of raw silk for United Kingdom delivery.

This freight was loaded direct to the steamer Princess Maquina and taken on to Vancouver.

The Jackson cleared at 1 this morning for Seattle.

MARIE BAKKE HERE
Knutsen Line Ms. Marie Bakke, which made port over the weekend, commenced loading 600,000 feet of lumber this morning at the Canadian National docks. She is expected to finish tonight.

BABY BORN AT SEA
A Chinese girl baby born aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia on May 24, will be named "Victoria Chiu." It was announced by the mother, Mrs. Lee Gam Yuke, on arrival of the ship from the Orient today.

The mother and baby are leaving Victoria by the afternoon C.P.R. boat for Seattle.

PRIZE POSTER ON DISPLAY

A poster which recently focused the eyes of American business men on Canada, and which brought the Canadian Pacific Railway the grand prize during the recent annual exhibition in Rockefeller Centre, New York, is now on display in the window of the uptown ticket office of the Canadian Pacific, and at the B.C. Coast wharf here.

Created by Tom Hall, a leading Canadian artist of Montreal, the poster was judged the best out of 250 entries for its attractiveness of artistry, color and theme. It depicts a monstrous grizzly emerging from the thick woods

Japan Peer Here Today With Son Iyosato, Former Minister to Canada

Hurrying through to London to attend the international Red Cross conference, opening June 20, Prince Iyemasa Tokugawa, president of the Japanese Red Cross Society, and his son, Iyosato Tokugawa, former Japanese minister to Canada, passed through Victoria this morning as passengers aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia.

They will be joined in London by C. Ariyoshi, who will act as the third official Japanese delegate to the conference.

"I am now among the great army of unemployed," said Iyosato Tokugawa, explaining he was no longer connected with the Japanese diplomatic service.

"Three years have elapsed since I left Ottawa to take over the post of Minister to Turkey and within that short time my daughter has married and I am now a grandfather. It might seem odd to be a granddaddy, but I don't feel that way, and I surely don't look old."

The Tokugawas expressed regret at their inability to see more of Canada at this time.

"We have but 55 minutes at Montreal to make the boat from the train, June 3, so you can see that we are in a hurry," said Prince Tokugawa.

They will sail by the liner Duchess of York for England.

"I am particularly glad to be back in Canada," said Iyosato Tokugawa.

"I made many friends during my tenure of office at Ottawa, and I expect to renew acquaintance with these on our return journey," he said they expected to return home, via Canada, in August.

Hon. Randolph Bruce, Canadian minister to Japan, was at the boat in Yokohama to see the Tokugawas off and wish them bon voyage.

"Both the Canadian minister and his wife are extremely popular in Japan," said the younger Tokugawa.

and is entitled "Hunt Big Game in Canada."

Most of the leading railway systems in Canada and the United States supplied entries, and as a result of Canada's victory in this important exhibition a number of American firms have started a move to study Canadian methods.

In the creation of the prize-winning poster, the silk screen process familiar to Canadian Pacific posters for the past six years was used.

University and art school students are specially invited to visit and inspect this colorful poster, which will be displayed in Victoria for a whole week before being sent to Nanaimo.

Potatoes reproduced themselves solely by seeds, in olden days, but now seed balls rarely appear on the plants, and reproduction is accomplished by tubers.

Honor Memory Of Navigator

Pilgrimage to Capt. Vancouver's Grave Described By Times Reporter

By PETER STURBERG
LONDON—Few British Columbians in London miss the annual pilgrimage to Vancouver's grave, which took place on the afternoon of May 18.

Aside from honoring the pioneer of the Pacific, there is the thrill of bumping into friends and acquaintances 6,000 miles from home.

And it is surprising how many people from Victoria are over here, despite the fact this is the year after the Coronation. The reading room of British Columbia House was crowded before the three buses which W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general, conveniently provided, left for Peterham.

Among those who attended the service, I noticed Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Goldring, Col. and Mrs. A. A. Sharland, Mrs. Alex Gillespie, Miss I. L. Allan, Miss Margaret Mackie, Miss Phyllis Pooley, Miss Rosemary Pooley, Mr. Robert Cassidy, K.C., Mr. Charles Bishop, Miss Wenly Pinhorn, Mrs. Wharton and Mr. Denny Diespecker.

The quaint little 14th century church was filled to capacity with British Columbians and Western Australians, who also claim Vancouver for their own.

Sitting in the high, boxed-in pews close to the tablet honoring the discoverer, I could understand how this young British naval officer—he was only 40 when he died—found such welcome rest and peace here following his voyages and adventures. In these cosy compartments he must have watched an old man pumping for all he was worth at the hand organ just as I watched him 140 years later, and he might have slid back in his seat and dozed off during the sermon without notice by even the rector, for the little brick church was so built that it was much wider inside than it was outside.

Following a brief service conducted by Rev. R. S. Mills, Mr. McAdam led the way to the simple grave of the navigator which is in the shelter of the ancient brick wall of the churchyard. Standing between the young Douglas fir of the city of Vancouver and the flourishing arbutus which Victoria contributed and was planted two years ago by Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, Mr. Pooley delivered the main oration.

The sound of pneumatic drills and the honk of automobiles disturbed the old world atmosphere of this graveyard. He declared his pride in being a native son not only of Vancouver Island, but of Esquimalt and spoke of the British tradition of this island which the British explorer named.

With his crisp English voice, young Hamilton Kerr, M.P., of the British Admiralty, could be heard above the tattoo of the pneumatic drills. He emphasized the important defence measures which the Canadian government was taking off Vancouver Island and he mentioned the addition (for was it additions) to the Canadian navy.

Sir Hal Colebatch, agent-general for Western Australia, gave the Antipodean side of Vancouver's work. Mr. Gibson, for 17 years mayor of Fremantle, chief port of Western Australia, who claims to be the mayor with the longest service in the British Empire, also spoke.

Wreaths were laid on the grave of Vancouver, including a beautiful one made of Madonna lilies, red carnations, blue lilies, and white hydrangeas from British Columbia.

After standing around the grave for three-quarters of an hour, a hot cup of tea was welcome for it was one of those muggy grey days for which London is famous. Mrs. Lionel Wardle entertained the British Columbians in the ballroom at Peterham House.

ABERHART ACTIVE
When Premier Aberhart left Saskatoon last night for Edmonton his plans were indefinite. He had addressed 25 meetings in 13 days. This week, in addition to supervising a series of broadcasts here, he may speak at Humboldt and Saskatoon.

The Social Credit leader told a meeting at Hanley, 40 miles south of Saskatoon, that technical experts were convinced his monetary theories could be applied in a province. Asked what would happen to the "money in the banks and mortgage companies," he stated that money "would not matter" when "we could make it easy."

Social Credit governments in Alberta and Saskatchewan could speak together, Mr. Aberhart suggested. When either asked the Dominion Government for anything, the people of Saskatchewan could say: "Give Alberta what it wants" and Albertans could say "give Saskatchewan what it wants."

AIR SURVEY OF ALASKA
FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The United States geological survey announced today it soon would start the first systematic aerial survey of interior Alaska, covering 10,000 square miles between Fairbanks and the Yukon boundary along the route of the international air mail service.

A plane chartered for use by topographers Gerald Fitzgerald and J. Haynie is being equipped for aerial photography. The mapping project may later be extended north to the mouth of the Tanana River.

Forty-seven per cent of Alaska already has been mapped by the geological survey, the topographers said. The projected survey is expected to aid in aerial navigation, highway construction and prospecting.

Record Field For Saskatchewan Vote

Expect Biggest List of Candidates in History to Seek Election June 8

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan may roll up a new record this week in the number of candidates in the field for the provincial election. June 1 will be official nomination day and polling will be held June 8.

In the 1934 Saskatchewan election, there were 169 candidates for 55 seats, but this total may be exceeded this year despite the fact there are only 49 constituencies, three of which will elect two members.

Liberals will go to the polls with 53 candidates, two men running in the far northern riding of Athabasca. The C.C.F. has 31 in the field. The Conservatives have 26 nominations and two more may be added in Souris-Estevan and Kerrobert-Kindersley.

The Social Credit Party will be an unknown factor until the list of candidates is announced by Hon. E. C. Manning, Alberta Provincial Secretary. It is not expected to exceed 45.

In addition, there are seven Independents, two Labor-Progressives, two Independent Labor, one Labor and one Independent Conservative in the field.

GARDINER SPEAKS
One of the features over the week-end was the first speech of Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal Minister of Agriculture, and former provincial Premier. He spoke Saturday night at Dylart, in the constituency of Melville, where he made his first political speech in 1912.

The federal minister predicted Premier Aberhart of Alberta would run Saskatchewan if the Social Crediters won the election. He referred to the proposed Alberta production tax of 7 per cent as Socialism, adding that "here, in 1934, you voted against the Socialists taking control of your land and produce."

The Alberta government might keep increasing the production tax until it took the entire production of the province, he warned.

Mr. Gardiner lauded the Saskatchewan system of debt reduction, based on mutual consent of debtors and creditors. He said it had worked more advantageously than Alberta's arbitrary system.

Liberals believed debt adjustment could not be accomplished by the club of legislation. "Few people settle their debts in court," he said, "and we say the way to adjust debts is by personal contact between debtor and creditor."

When the Patterson government started to adjust public and private debts in Saskatchewan, they totaled $24,000,000. They were reduced by $165,000,000 with an annual interest saving of $15,000,000.

Boys Will Sail In Battleships

Canadian School Group to Bunk With Junior Naval Officers

TORONTO (CP)—Thirty-five Canadian schoolboys will have the privilege this summer of being guests of the Admiralty aboard ships of the Royal Navy. The lucky students will be selected by the Overseas Education League from a party of private and secondary school pupils scheduled to leave Quebec July 1 for a tour of the south of England.

Immediately on arrival in England the boys will be accepted in groups of from three to five in the battleships Nelson, Rodney, Royal Oak, Revenge and Ramilies and the cruisers Southampton, Newcastle, Cornwall and Sheffield. The Canadians will visit with the fleet various English seaside resorts before re-assembling to witness the combined exercises with the army and air forces at Portsmouth July 19 to 23. The boys will be quartered with junior officers in the ships' gunrooms.

Last year, 170 of the 330 Canadian students who visited England to participate in the Coronation ceremonies were the guests of the Admiralty for two nights on ships of the home and Mediterranean fleets assembled for the royal naval review.

The invitation this year reflects something of the good impression left in the United Kingdom by the Coronation-year party of boys and girls. The Overseas Education League is advising each principal to name one student for the cruise with the fleet and the fortunate 35 will be selected by league officials from those nominated.

Following the cruise the boys will join the main party for visits to London and Eastbourne, noted southern seaside resort. Accompanied by English and European students, the Canadians will be entertained with sightseeing, hiking, cycling and swimming. Visits will be made to Hurstmoor and Pevensey Castles, East Dean, Beachy Head and other places of interest.

The Canadians will sail for Canada from Liverpool August 11.
